

WEATHER SLOWS ARMY MOVEMENTS

Blizzards Are Sweeping Trenches in Belgium and Northern France

BRINGS MUCH SUFFERING

Severe Weather Brings Great Suffering to Wounded and Those in the Fields

GERMAN ATTEMPTS DECREASING

London, Nov. 16.—No important events were written today into the history of the war as far as great events are concerned. The coming of winter has partly paralyzed the movements of the troops both in the east and the west. The Russians on the border of east Prussia are reported to be marching through snow, which is their natural element, clad in sheep skin jackets similar to those which the Japanese first wore in Manchuria. Blizzards have swept the trenches in Belgium and northern France and brought great suffering to the wounded as well as to the men in the fields. A large area of west Flanders around Dixmude has been flooded by the heavy rains and is no-man's land for fighting.

The French and German reports today are contradictory as regards the progress of their armies in the west yesterday. Berlin says there was only slight activity because of the snow storm. Paris announced that the Germans, in attempting to cross the canal near Dixmude were thrust back, while the allies recaptured several strategic points, repulsed two German attacks south-east of Ypres and "entirely destroyed" a German regiment south of Blichschoote.

Attacks Decrease in Force.
An observer with the British army who furnishes the newspaper reports from the front, announces that the German attempts to batter a wedge through the British lines have decreased greatly in force during the past few days and that they bear no resemblance to the attacks in great force launched against Ypres at the end of October.

They are more in the nature of demonstrations in force than serious assaults, he declares.

The writer pays high tribute to the bravery of raw German youths and untrained men of middle age who, he says, do not hesitate to march against the trained British troops.

If the Germans have abandoned their furious battering ram efforts to thrust back the allies' lines and reach Calais their failure will constitute a distinct victory for the allies it is asserted here, because the allies have not tried to accomplish anything more than to hold their own on the defensive.

Petrograd reports that the Russian campaign is developing favorably in east Prussia. From other sources it is reported the inhabitants of that country are beginning to flee before the menace of a second invasion. On the Polish frontier and in Galicia two enormous armies are massing for a battle which may decide the fortunes of the war in the east. The possibility is being discussed that the Austrians may abandon Cracow without offering defense and then submit the city to a destructive bombardment.

Roar of Cannon Less Violent.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The usual hail of steel and the surging of armies in northern France and Belgium seemed to have met with obstacles today, for the roar of cannon was less violent and the troops scarcely came in contact with each other. It is generally believed here that new foundations started by the Belgians put many of the German guns out of action and also prevented the movements of troops.

It is almost impossible to gain an accurate insight into the prodigious action that is stretching over the 300 mile front and at the end of which the fighting has been extremely severe during the last three weeks. The continuous night marches and attacks made by the Germans which have been met by counter attacks from the allies near Dixmude and Ypres, however, are said to have resulted in a considerable thrusting back of the Germans.

Shelter for Infantry.

Near by a coal basin in northern France which is partly occupied by the Germans and which has been the scene of heavy fighting, the long lines of small houses belonging to the miners now form a capital shelter for the infantry who frequently are engaged in hand to hand conflicts.

These compounds of cold steel have seen the British infantry engaged against the Prussian guards and descriptions of the fighting from the front paint the encounters as terrible. The Prussians fought four deep—the front rank lying down, the second rank kneeling and the third rank standing erect. The British fire it is said, caused an awful slaughter and finally when the British charged with the bayonet before

War News Summarized

With all this terrific fighting neither side has been able to gain any material advantage. They are keeping at it with the same determination that has characterized the entire progress of the war, though rains have swept the trenches, snow has fallen and the men are suffering hardships that would seem almost unendurable.

Likewise, in the eastern arena, the troops facing each other now have wintery conditions to contend with, but the frost is helping the muscovite forces to move more rapidly on the east Prussian frontier. The morass and the soft roads have been frozen over, making easier the movement of men, artillery and transport.

A newspaper report received in Venice says that Cracow in Galicia is on fire and that its inhabitants are in flight.

The British say that in two actions against the Turks at Fao, in the Persian Gulf, they have "severely handled and defeated the Ottomans." The Turks, also have lost 250 men and two guns in the bombardment of the forts in the Dardanelles by the warships of the allies.

According to the German official reports, the operations in Flanders are progressing slowly, but in the Argonne district they have achieved further important successes. In Poland the battle continues without definite results, although Germany reports the capture of 23,000 prisoners and many guns.

The British parliament, without a dissenting voice has voted an additional credit of $1,125,000,000 for the prosecution of the war and also another million soldiers. Premier Asquith announced that the war is costing Great Britain close to $5,000,000 daily.

The Prince of Wales having obtained permission to do so from King George and Lord Kitchener has departed for the front. He will join Field Marshal Sir John French's headquarters staff.

Five officers and four non-commissioned officers have been awarded the Victoria Cross, the most valued of all Great Britain's decorations of valor.

Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, says an Amsterdam despatch, is being urged to consult with the president of the United States on the possibility of offering mediation to the belligerent powers. The American minister, Dr. Henry Vanduyke, is returning to the United States and there is a report current that he may bring the matter to President Wilson's attention on his arrival at Washington.

CHILD HELD FOR REET.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Charles by Mrs. Emma Inwood, that her three year old grandson was being held for a debt of $200 caused Judge Walker to issue a writ of habeas corpus today.

Mrs. Inwood alleged that the child was in the possession of a Mrs. Nomy on the pretense that Mrs. Inwood owed her $200. Mrs. Nomy, she said, had taken the child from the state, had placed him in a public institution and while in Chicago, moved frequently in order to avoid service in any action that might be brought against her.

LORD ROBERTS TO BE BURIED AT ASCOT

London, Nov. 17.—2:14 a. m.—It has been decided that Lord Roberts will be buried at Ascot, either in All Saints' Church or on his Englemore estate.

OSTERICH CHALLENGE TURKEYS

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The ostrich entered Chicago today as a challenger in the field occupied by the Thanksgiving turkey. They were grown in the southwest and are more chicks, as they weigh only fifty pounds each. They were offered for sale at fifty cents a pound, live weight.

The Germans could bring their machine guns into action hundreds of men fell.

Siege Operations Unchanged.

The siege operations along the remainder of the line find the troops of both sides apparently immobile. But the allies continue daily their work of sapping and digging. There is said to be the possibility of a general assault at any moment. Heavy falls of snow in the Vosges mountains lasting over twenty-four hours have made the movement of artillery most difficult. The fighting there is almost a standstill.

Reports from the front tell of a brilliant feat of a British infantry detachment of eighty men who were cut off at night from their command and took refuge in a wood during a fog. The wood was surrounded by Germans. At dawn the British heard the French attacking and decided to charge with the bayonet at the rear of the Germans, of whom they captured 400. It is said.

A regiment of French hussars near Ypres stuffed a number of uniforms with straw and attached them to wounded horses. These drove in to the German lines. While the Germans were firing at the dumplings on horse back it is said the hussars charged their flank and took a large number of prisoners.

PLANS FOR WIDENING FIELD OF OPERATIONS

TWELVE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS BEGIN BUSINESS MONDAY

Federal Reserve Board Has Under Consideration the Deposit of Large Part of the Loose Cash Now in Treasury and Transfer of Government Funds Now in National Banks.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Although the twelve federal reserve banks only began business today the federal reserve board already has before it plans for widening their field of operations and increasing their store of cash.

Telegrams began to reach the treasury department shortly after Secretary McAdoo issued his formal announcement to the banks to open their doors. They continued to arrive all day long, governors and federal reserve agents of all the banks telegraphing their congratulations and their promises of co-operation in making the system a success. No definite data of the business done was available tonight but secretary Willis telegraphed each bank for an account of its receipts for the day and expected to be able to lay a report before the board tomorrow.

The board may not be willing to draw any definite plans from one day's business but the first week may have a material effect and may result in augmenting the cash of the banks by more than $150,000,000. The board has under consideration the deposit of a large part of the loose cash now in the treasury and the transfer of most of the government funds now deposited in national banks. Secretary McAdoo has power to make these changes but so far has not reached a decision. If the first week's re-discount business shows that the reserve banks can use more cash, however, the board probably will suggest the adoption of the plan. It has been reported to the board that there is about $110,000,000 in the treasury available for this purpose and that about $64,000,000 of the $79,000,000 now in banks on deposit for the government could be transferred.

Chicago Bank Gets $22,000,000.
Chicago, Nov. 16.—Celebration of what Paul Warburg of the Federal Reserve Board called a "financial fourth of July" was observed in the opening today of federal reserve banks in middle western cities. The first millions of the huge sums of money that the banks will hold were deposited amid ceremonies of rejoicing.

The Chicago reserve bank received $22,000,000 today.

"This means a complete change in the economic condition of the United States," said C. H. Bosworth, federal reserve agent. "It should mean the safety, independence and gradual expansion of our commerce. Interest rates should soon fall with the release of these vast sums of actual cash."

Several of the most important local banks announced today a reduction of the interest rate to six per cent. It was said, however, that money here had been easier for some time.

"We could not have asked for a more auspicious opening," said Charles M. Sawyer, governor of the Kansas City reserve bank. "It will soon be seen in this territory as elsewhere, what a great and beneficial purpose the reserve banks will serve."

Amounts totalling in excess of a million dollars were received today in the opening rush at Kansas City.

"We have already had inquiries for federal reserve currency," said W. C. McMartin, chairman of the St. Louis reserve board today. "There have been no formal applications as yet. Receipts today probably exceed deposits as the formal notices were sent out only today."

UNCLE SAM'S SOLDIERS IN VERY BEST OF HEALTH

Shortage of Mobile Hospital Units Is Pointed out as Defect in Army's Organization by Surgeon General Gorgas.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Soldiers of the United States army enjoyed better health during the past year than ever before. In his annual report submitted to Secretary Garrison today Surgeon General Gorgas announced that the hospital rate for the year was the lowest on record; that typhoid fever virtually had been stamped out; that there was less alcoholism than at any time in the army's history and that, in spite of the large number of men on duty in southern latitudes, the malaria fever rate was the lowest since 1898, when American troops were first permanently stationed in the tropics.

Special attention was paid by the surgeon general to the high hygienic standard maintained in camp, where a considerable part of the army had to live during the year.

Shortage of mobile hospital units was pointed out as a glaring defect in the army's organization.

"Our present personnel," said the report, "permits only one half of the regular army in the field to be served by the sanitary units prescribed by field service regulations. In view of the great battle losses to be expected in modern wars, it is a serious responsibility to rely upon a few improvised units that must serve at the front."

SUFFRAGISTS CLOSE NASHVILLE SESSIONS

Convention Ends With Ap- parent Truce Established Between the Elements

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Administration Nominees Are Elected by Majority of 70 Votes Over "Representative Ticket"

OPPOSE ATTACKS ON ANY PARTY

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 16.—The forty sixth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage association, in session here since last Thursday, closed tonight with an apparent truce established between the opposing elements of the organization. Among the more important results of today's session were the election of officers, the declaration by the association of a definite policy opposing attacks on a political party and the adoption of resolutions setting forth the organization's stand on legislation for suffrage and on other public questions.

There were few incidents that brought out any sign of division of opinion among the delegates, the statement of policy being the only question over which warmth was displayed in debate. Contrary to numerous rumors of the day and night previous, no mention was made of the congressional union, concerning which there had been heated discussion among the delegates and no motion was presented involving any authorization to the national body to discipline state organizations which might work contrary to the association's policy.

Anti-administration supporters worked diligently for their candidates for national officers, styled the "representative ticket," but after the administration nominees were elected by a majority strength of about seventy votes, calmness prevailed.

Reference to Opposition.

In announcing the adjournment of the annual meeting Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, elected president for the tenth term, made a brief reference to the opposition. She said: "If anyone has any criticism to make against the president of this association or the official board, that criticism should be offered first to the president and to the board. In that way possibly all strife can be obviated."

The Bass Resolution.

A substitute resolution on declaration of policy offered by Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, was adopted by the convention instead of the recommendation approved by the executive council. The resolution reads:

"Resolved, That the National American Woman Suffrage association is absolutely opposed to holding any political party responsible for the opinions and acts of its individual members or holding any individual public official or candidate responsible for the action of his party majority on the question of woman suffrage."

First Break in Harmony.

The first break in the prompt acquiescence of delegates to the programme presented by the leaders, occurred over a motion by Mrs. Barton Jenks of Rhode Island, for the appointment of a campaign survey committee of nine to investigate and select campaign ground and to submit suggestions and advice to the national association and the states.

Mrs. Helen Hoy Greeley of New York, supported Mrs. Jenks. The opposition was led by Miss Laura Clay of Kentucky, who declared no states would accept the committee's decision and would prefer to make their own selections. Several delegates from the south and west took a stand with Miss Clay.

Attempts to amend the motion to give the national board jurisdiction over the individual state associations in the matter were defeated. The motion finally was carried with an amendment giving the national board authority to appoint members of the committee. Among the resolutions adopted by the convention were the following:

The Resolution Adopted.

That the national suffrage association urge United States senators and representatives to take up at once the amendments pending in congress for the enfranchisement of women.

That congress be urged to enact legislation to protect the rights of women citizens who marry unnaturalized foreigners. That congress be petitioned to protect women against state denial of the rights of citizens of the United States who vote for members of congress, presidential electors and United States senators in the states where they reside, by making federal laws in pursuance of that clause of the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution which says that "no state shall

RUBIEN CHOSEN A. A. A SECRETARY TREASURER

WILL FILL OFFICE MADE VACANT BY DEATH OF JAMES E. SULLIVAN

Union Votes to Give $2,500 to Sullivan Memorial Fund—Three Amendments are Adopted to Constitution—Balance in Treasury now $23,609.30.

New York, Nov. 16.—The office of secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, made vacant by the death of S. James E. Sullivan for twenty years the dominant figure in National Athletics, was filled today at the annual meeting of the organization by the election of Frederick W. Rubien, president of the Metropolitan Association, the only candidate.

The union voted to give $2,500 to a fund which is being raised for the purpose of erecting a Sullivan Memorial.

All the national championships of the organization with one exception were awarded to the Panama-Pacific Exposition for 1915. The exception was the National Boxing championship which will be held at Boston. The winners of the boxing championships will be sent to San Francisco later on however, to take part in the exposition championship bout.

The receipts from all sources amounted to $7,969.29 and the disbursements were $8,797.92. The balance in the treasury of the union now is $23,609.30 as against $24,708.02 one year ago.

Several amendments to the constitution were proposed and discussed at the meeting but only three of them were adopted. The most radical of these was one by which women are enabled to register for swimming events confined exclusively to women competitors. The laws of the union heretofore prohibited women registering in any department of sport under the Union's jurisdiction. Rule XI, relating to professional contests and exhibitions, which has caused a great deal of discussion, recently, was changed to read:

"Professional contests or exhibitions shall be allowed at games, meetings or entertainments, held under the auspices of the A. A. U. A regularly employed instructor, however, may take part with his pupils in group exhibitions only. No competition shall be held between an amateur and a professional and where both amateur and professional contest are held at the same place and same day. All amateur events must either precede the professional events or vice versa."

The secretary was instructed to give thirty days' notice to the National Catholic Athletic League of its alleged violation of the A. A. U. reason given for this drastic action being continued inactivity in registration on the part of the Catholic League.

ITALY JOINS UNITED STATES

AND SPAIN IN RELIEF WORK

German Authorities at Liege Give Workers Every Assurance of Their Co-operation.
London, Nov. 16.—Italy has joined with the United States and Spain in Belgian relief work. A prominent engineer, Gaetano, well known in America, investigated the commission's work last week and returned to Rome to submit his report. The Duke of Sermoneta today telegraphed that a central committee had been formed to co-operate in the work and hoped to have an organization in every town. Captain T. F. Lucey, representing the commission at Rotterdam, has sent the following message:

"Captain Sunderland, of The Hague legation, who went with a train load of supplies, received a satisfactory reception at Liege from the German authorities who gave him every assurance of their co-operation. The Burgomaster of Liege has sent a courier here to thank the committee on behalf of 600,000 people of Liege and vicinity as by your prompt action the desperate situation has been temporarily relieved."

"Limbourg also sends thanks for prompt relief of flour and salt. The terrible storms of the last three days have made it impossible to deliver to remote districts."

make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privilege or immunities of citizens of the United States."

That all women be urged to encourage such industries and institutions as adhere to the principle of "equal pay for equal work regardless of sex."

A resolution recommending to leaders of boy scout movement that they "reject all spirit of military aggression in the organization" was withdrawn after considerable discussion as was a resolution urging federal and state laws raising the age of protection of girls to 21 years.

Before the convention adjourned Mrs. M. E. Carey Thomas of Bryn Mawr gave notice that at the next annual meeting she will propose an amendment to the constitution providing that the convention be held in Washington, D. C., every four years coincident with the inauguration of a new administration and the convening of a new congress.

The selection of the next convention city will be made by the board of directors.

MEETING DEVOTED TO WAR MEASURES

PARTISAN POLITICS LACKING AT MEETING OF HOUSE OF COMMONS

House Grants Premier Asquith's Request of $1,125,000,000 and Another Million Soldiers Without a Dissenting Vote—Premier Places Burden of Censorship On France.

London, Nov. 16.—The meeting of the house of commons today was devoted entirely to war measures and partisan politics was lacking.

Premier Asquith requested a vote of £23,000,000 pounds sterling ($1,125,000,000) and another million soldiers, both of which the house granted without a dissenting vote. The condition and morals of the soldiers, the inevitable spy system and the press censorship were discussed freely.

The prime minister characterized the crisis as "the greatest emergency in which the country ever has been placed."

He said 1,200,000 men already were under arms; that the war was costing nearly $5,000,000 per day and that the government proposed to lend Belgium $50,000,000 and Serbia $4,000,000 without interest, until the end of the war.

Timothy Healy, the Irish Nationalist, said that the money should be John Hodge, the labor member for Lancashire, endorsed the proposal, with the suggestion:

"Later on we can collect it from the German emperor."

Reginald McKenna, secretary for home affairs, informed the house that there are 14,500 alien enemies in the concentration camps in the British Isles and 29,000 at large.

Congratulates Government.

Walter Hume Long, unionist, said the country was not likely to be faced with the stupendous problems of unemployment, which might naturally have been expected and he believed all the men needed would be forthcoming because the spirit of the country was so magnificent. He congratulated the government on behalf of the opposition on its "steadfast determination to carry the war to a successful conclusion."

"Mr. Long, Mr. Healy and Lord Charles Berford discussed the question of publicity and urged that the country should be given fuller details of achievements of the troops in the field."

William Henry Cowan, liberal, proposed that Great Britain follow Russia's example and prohibit the sale of liquor during the war. Mr. Healy demanded greater liberality in dealing with the dependents of the soldiers. He said:

"We are not going to have crippled warriors in the workhouses again or their dependents thrown upon the scrap heap."

Places Burden on France.
In his closing speech, Premier Asquith placed the burden of the censorship on France and said it was necessary to defer to the wishes of the country which was doing the greater part of the fighting and where the fighting was being carried on.

Dealing with the matter of pay, the premier said:

"The insufficiency of the pay of the lower ranks of commissioned officers has long been a reproach to this country and has become scandalous and an indecency when men are laying down their lives."

He announced that the secretary for war had prepared a scheme for increased pay. He closed by declaring that sickness among the troops had not exceeded ten, possibly fifteen percent and that he believed no body of men had ever been brought together who had comported themselves better than the present army.

MINERS PETITION DUNNE

TO RE-OPEN MINES.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Governor Dunne responded to a petition from 600 miners of Wilt, Montgomery county, today, with a letter urging Francis Peabody to expedite the re-opening of coal mines which have been idle for a year. Peabody intimated the mines might soon be reopened but refused to commit himself to action on the governor's request.

The mines had been closed for repairs, he said.

"Providence and the weather," prevented me from re-opening at once. The colder weather of today probably would result in resumption of mining business he said.

PEACE IN MEXICO NOW SEEMS POSSIBILITY

U. S. Agent States Car- ranza Telegraphed His Intention of Resigning

BRYAN HAS NO COMMENT

Secretary of State Makes Public Carranza's Message, But De- clines to Comment on It

GUTIERREZ BIDS FOR RECOGNITION

Washington, Nov. 16.—Peace in Mexico after weeks of dissension among the generals of the victorious constitutional army at last seemed in sight today, according to messages received by the United States government from its agents in the southern republic.

Soon after American Consul Silliman telegraphed from Mexico City early in the day that hostilities between the forces of the convention and those loyal to Carranza had ceased, came a message from Leon Canova, special agent of the American government at Aguas Calientes, stating that General Carranza had telegraphed his intention of resigning. The message said:

"Everything settled satisfactorily. General Carranza has telegraphed General Gutierrez that he will retire."

Secretary Bryan made public the brief message which was dated 7 p. m. yesterday but made no comment on it. Although the despatch itself was delayed in reaching here, from no other source in Mexico had come word of a similar nature. Officials thought it not unlikely that in the interest of domestic peace, both Carranza and Villa would retire from their positions of authority and leave Mexico while the national government was re-organized.

In view of the fact that neither press despatches nor telegrams to the constitutionalist army made mention of a successful outcome of the peace conferences however, there was a disposition to await further advice from Carranza who is at Cordoba before accepting the information given to special agent Canova by the Mexican generals at the Aguas Calientes convention.

May Have Later Information.

Secretary Bryan tonight made the following announcement:

"A despatch from American Consul Silliman dated this forenoon in Mexico City was received by the state department tonight. It reports that the negotiations are still pending. We do not know therefore whether this conflict as with the report we received from Aguas Calientes this afternoon or whether Canova who is there has later information."

It was pointed out that as Carranza is in Cordoba and practically no important officials are in Mexico City, Consul Silliman may not be in as good a position to learn the latest developments in the situation as Canova who is detailed with Provisional President Gutierrez at Aguas Calientes. It was suggested in some quarters that Eulalio Gutierrez, the new provisional president might name Villa to a foreign military mission, perhaps as an observer in the European war. Carranza, it is believed, may visit the United States.

Makes Bid For Recognition.

During the day the white house made public a message received by President Wilson from Provisional President Gutierrez, setting forth the latter's aims for reconstruction in Mexico. While the message made no reference to recognition it was interpreted as a bid for it.

PURDUE FOOTBALL COACHES RESIGN

Refuse to Work Under Athletic Director Hugh Nicol.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 16.—Andy Smith, head football coach at Purdue university and Pete Vaughn, basketball coach and assistant football coach, have notified the athletic board of control that they will retire after the game with Indiana next Saturday.

George P. Hayward, attorney, acting for Mr. Smith said tonight: "There is no statement to make. Mr. Smith was not satisfied with the athletic management at Purdue and has notified the board that he quite after the Indiana game, if present conditions continue."

Coaches Smith and Vaughn in their statements to the Athletic board of control directly said that they would no longer work under Athletic Director Hugh Nicol. Mr. Nicol made complaint to the faculty that this year's football team had been poorly coached.

Farewell to High School Frats.

Every American high school girl who is a member of a "frat" must have her resignation in by tonight, under penalty of being barred from joining such fraternities when she reaches college. Such is the order of the congress of the National Pan-Hellenic, representing 70,000 college fraternity women in America. The congress was recently held in New York, and will meet again in San Francisco next year.

For it was decreed that high school girls were too young to be members of such secret organizations. Their conduct, it was charged, led to the formation of undesirable cliques, developed snobbishness in many instances, and many girls became members against the wishes and without the knowledge of their parents. The high school frat was condemned as not necessary.

The decision of the college women to put the younger "frats" out of business caused no little dissatisfaction among the younger women, and all are watching the result of the ultimatum.

Boys and Corn Culture.

The Department of Agriculture is about to issue a series of lessons on corn of the benefit of children in rural schools. This is in line with organization of boy's corn clubs throughout the country. The average production of corn per acre is still under 25 bushels despite the fact that in nearly every locality yields of 100 bushels per acre have been reported. The Department sees in this difference a lesson which the Department thinks rural school teachers, especially in the great corn growing states will find a valuable aid in the work of stimulating in their charges a healthy interest in sound agriculture.

Four brothers, members of the Boys' Corn Club of Georgia, produced 224 bushels of corn on four acres of land this year. Luther Allred of Pickens County, one of the brothers, won first prize at the Georgia State Fair for the greatest yield from one acre. He produced 227 bushels.

Clarence Allred raised 220 bushels, Elmer 219 and Arthur 167, according to the announcement of the judges. Walker Lee Denson, of Alexander, Ala., hold the national record with a yield of 232 bushels on one acre.

Hard to Lose This Job.

In the town of Glenolden, Delaware county, Pennsylvania, there is a postmaster who doesn't want his job, and who will probably give part of his salary to any one who will take it off his hands. He is Joseph H. Fairlamb, and he has cared for Uncle Sam's mails ever since 1877.

"Oh, pshaw," exclaimed Mr. Fairlamb, disgustedly, recently as he wearily resumed his seat after having passed a letter through the window: "I wish I could get rid of this blamed job. I've been trying to resign for more than a year. The government won't accept my resignation and the law forbids me to leave my post without its consent. If I wanted to keep the job, every one in this town would try to take it from me; but since I don't, I can't get out."

"I sent in my resignation a year ago last August. They held a civil service examination, but that's all that has happened. I am going to keep on writing to Washington until I am relieved. I don't want it, and I won't keep it."

PACKAGES IN PORTUGAL.

Messengers Carry Them, as Stores Do Not Use Delivery Wagons.

Light delivery in Portugal is done almost entirely by men and women. Delivery wagons, such as are used in American cities, are unknown here. Some of the large department stores are now using motor trucks, but none has introduced a special parcel carrier.

Lisbon and Oporto, the only large cities in the republic, are built on hills, and most of the streets are very steep, attaining a grade of 15 per cent. They are paved with stone and generally are in good condition. The roads immediately about these cities are fair and the grades are easy. County highways are a mixture of very good and very bad. They are not kept up as they should be and for short distances are apt to be extremely rough.

Nearly all articles such as are delivered in the United States from a light wagon or motor vehicle are sold here by men and women, who go through the streets crying their wares. Fish, fowls, vegetables, bread, oil, fruit, etc., are all carried on the head or shoulders of the vendor. Delivery of goods from small shops is made by boys or by the "zalego," who is found at every street corner. These men also transport pianos, furniture and other articles of a similar character.—Consular Report.

MILITARY MESSAGES.

Some That Were Made Famous by Their Pith and Brevity.

Of famous military messages there are scores, beginning with the never to be forgotten "Veni, vidi, vici" of Caesar and that equally famous dispatch of Commodore Perry. "We have met the enemy and they are ours," but both were beaten for brevity by General Sir Robert Boyd, who while governor of Gibraltar, being in need of beef for his troops, wrote to the agent in England this laconic dispatch: "Brownie, beef, Boyd." Brownie sent the stores with the reply, "Boyd, beef, Brownie."

And this in turn recalls the story of Peter de Dreu, the celebrated fighting bishop of Beauvais, who, being taken in arms by Richard Coeur de Lion, was imprisoned and fettered. Pope Celestine III, remonstrated in behalf of the prelate, and in reply the king sent the bishop's helmet and armor to Rome with this neat dispatch taken from Genesis xxxvii, 32: "Know now whether it be thy son's coat or no." The pope declined further intercession and replied that the coat the king had sent did not belong to a son of the church, but of the camp, and the prisoner, therefore, was at Richard's mercy.—Detroit Free Press.

Every Woman a Nurse.

Every woman, or at least almost every woman, has, at one time or another of her life, charge of the personal health of somebody, whether child or invalid—in other words, every woman is a nurse. Every day sanitary knowledge or the knowledge of nursing, or, in other words, of how to put the constitution in such a state as that it will have no disease or that it can recover from disease, takes a higher place. It is recognized as the knowledge which every one ought to have—distinct from medical knowledge, which only a profession can have.

If, then, every woman must at some time or other in her life become a nurse—nurse, have charge of somebody's health—how immense and how valuable would be the product of her united experience if every woman would think how to nurse.—Florence Nightingale.

Values In Exhaust Steam.

A common error among plant owners is to ascribe undue economy to the heat that may be carried in water resulting from the condensation of steam. They conversely greatly underestimate the heat carried in exhaust steam. As a matter of fact, the heat in a pound of water at 212 degrees is only 180 British thermal units reckoned above the freezing point, whereas in a pound of steam at the same temperature the heat units number 1,150. Hence if this steam is condensed in a radiator it gives out 970 heat units, and the drip will contain 180 heat units.—Engineering Magazine.

His Experiment.

An Irishman went into a hardware store to buy a looking glass. The shopman brought him some to choose from. "Pat left one on the counter and, walking back a few feet, closed his eyes.

"What are you closing your eyes for?" asked the shopkeeper.

"Behnd," said Pat, "I want to see how I look when I'm sleeping."—Chicago News.

On Time.

"Is this train running on time?"

"I should say so," answered the conductor. "It can't run any other way. The company has had to get so many extensions of credit that the whole road is now running on time."—Washington Star.

Making Sure.

"I will show my love not by words, but by deeds."

"I think, dear, you had better show the deeds to our lawyer."—Baltimore American.

Ought to Be Warm.

"Waiter, this pudding is quite cold."

"Impossible, sir: This is the fifth time it has been warmed since morning."—Paris Journal Amusant.

COST DATA KEPT IN STATE ROAD WORK

Figures Considered Almost As Important as Construction Work.

Cost keeping in all road work done by the State Highway Department is considered in importance second only to the building of the road itself.

It is the engineers duty to keep a complete record of the cost of all work done by or for the State. For this purpose he is furnished complete information for keeping the daily cost of each separate item of the work, and is required at least once each week to make out a report showing the amount of work done, together with the actual cost. The department insists that these reports shall be as complete as can be obtained. It is the intention of the department to tabulate all the information thus received from all work so that an average cost price can be figured for each class of work which will be of value not only in checking the efficiency of future work, but also in furnishing the data in regard to different types of roads and their costs before new work is undertaken. It will readily be admitted that when there is need of the improvement of a highway, the selection of the type of road, the material of which it is to be constructed and the reason for the adopted grade should be known and should be a matter of record.

As the work in State aid roads progresses, cost data will be kept on all classes of maintenance work which together with the cost of construction will give valuable information concerning the reliability of certain types of construction and the inadequacy of others.

"From the beginning of its work the State Highway Department has kept this information in regard to all the experimental roads which it has constructed, but as it had nothing to do with the maintenance of these roads, it was impossible to keep the data in regard to the cost of their upkeep, which is one of the most important items in determining the adoption of a specific kind of road.

We recognize that no cost data can be used as an absolute figure on what new work will be, on account of the different conditions encountered in different work, but we know that the average figures will hold true for the average case, and that in the compiling of this data, we will have information which will allow us to carry on our work at the least possible cost.

COMMISSIONERS CHANGE ORDER IN ROAD DESIGNATION

South Route Again Chosen for First Hard Road Work in Morgan County.

The board of county commissioners held a special session Monday and passed a resolution rescinding the action taken Oct. 31 whereby the Springfield road was designated for the first construction of hard roads. The resolution passed Monday designates the Morton road for the first construction work.

It will be remembered that the action of Oct. 31 rescinded the action taken in May last, and it was after hearing the arguments made Saturday by farmers and landowners living east of Jacksonville and south of Alexander precinct that the commissioners decided to again change their plans in the matter and once more designate the Morton road. The resolution as it appears upon the record is signed by W. F. Roegge, R. R. Coultas and D. T. Wilson as commissioners. The matter was discussed at length in an executive meeting of the board and it is understood that Commissioners Coultas and Wilson were in favor of the change and that Mr. Roegge decided to vote with them in order to have unanimous action on the part of the board. Some other matters relating to bridge and road improvements in various parts of the county were given consideration at the session.

LAKE VESSELS DRIVEN ASHORE BY HIGH WIND

One Vessels Wrecked and Two are Driven on Rocks by Gale.

Detroit, Nov. 16.—Two vessels were driven ashore and a third, previously grounded, was completely wrecked by a 45 mile gale which swept the lakes today.

Word was received from the captain of a wrecking company that the Steamer Cordius, which was beached near Parios, Ont., on the Canadian shore of Lake Erie last Thursday was torn to pieces by the storm. The steamer E. H. Utley of Cleveland was forced on the rocks on the north side of Round Island, in the Straits of Mackinaw, and the steamer Joshua W. Rhodes, was driven hard aground about half a mile below the United States ship canal in Lake St. Clair.

The Rhodes was released apparently little damaged, later in the day but latest reports from the Utley were that the ship was still ashore with a wrecking tug standing by.

No loss of life was reported.

MAY PROPOSE NEW TAXATION.

London, Nov. 17.—3:18 a. m.—Much interest is taken in a statement which David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer will make in the house of commons today on financing the war. The general belief is that in addition to the issue of a loan of 200,000,000 lbs., ($1,000,000,000) the chancellor will propose new taxation to meet the extra 25,000,000 pounds ($125,000,000) required.

LIGHT COMPANY HAS FILED INVENTORY

VOLUMINOUS DOCUMENT TURNED OVER TO UTILITY COMMISSION MONDAY.

Company's Property Here Valued at $774,452.—The Improvements Planned Will Cost $60,000.—Figuring For a Period of Eight Years and Allowing For Depreciation and Eight Percent Profit Loss of More Than $300,000 is Indicated.

Acting for the Jacksonville Railway & Light company W. B. Miser yesterday filed an inventory with the State Utility Commission. The inventory, which required nearly three months in the making, was compiled for the company by H. M. Byllesby & Co., engineers, of Chicago, and comprises 187 typewritten pages, together with a series of maps and plats, indicating the location of the company's properties in Jacksonville and South Jacksonville. The summary indicates that the company's property here has a value of $774,452.91.

Electric Plant Described.

In the introductory pages the engineers address a letter to H. E. Chubbuck, vice-president executive of the Illinois Traction System, in which they outline the scope of the inventory. It is stated that the Jacksonville Railway & Light company has a steam electric generating station with a total capacity of 1,250 kilowatts, in small belted and direct connected units, and a boiler plant with an installed capacity of 1,250 horse power. The generating equipment for the most part is stated to be no longer modern and that the plant is crowded. Further, it is mentioned that the engineers understand it to be the intention to re-habilitate this plant and mention is made of the fact that this work has already been commenced. It is stated that the company's power station generated three phase alternating current at 2,300 volts for lighting and power purposes and direct current at 500 volts both for commercial power and for sale to the Jacksonville Railway company. The electric distribution system, it is stated, consists of approximately 35 miles of wood pole lines, carrying 150 miles of wire. To this system are connected approximately 1,500 consumers. The pole lines have been well maintained and are in reasonably good operating condition at this time.

Gas Plant and Railway.

The artificial gas plant is described as comprising coal and water gas equipment with a total capacity of approximately 450,000 cubic feet. Mention is made that the entire plant was overhauled within a recent period and that the mains, although some of them have been in service as long as thirty years, are in general in a good operating condition. The distribution system serves approximately 2,800 customers.

It is stated that the Jacksonville Railway company has 7.83 miles of track, 8 closed, single truck motor cars; 5 open single truck motor cars and 3 open trailers. In preparing valuation the engineers endeavored to follow the wishes of the Public Utility Commission, as indicated by the commission's classification of property accounts. The figures presented are intended to represent the value of the property as an operating concern, with an established business. In arriving at these figures the engineers considered reproduction values, from which they deducted depreciation to date. In figuring unit costs, reproduction value and depreciation the engineers have based their estimates, not only upon this plant, but upon the tables prepared by experienced engineers from data secured through many transactions. In the matter of depreciation, for example, an entirely different rate applies to brick buildings and such equipment as steel stacks and breechings. In the first class the annual rate of depreciation is 1.5 and in the second class 10 per cent.

Overhead Charges Classified.

Overhead charges have also been considered in arriving at the totals and it is stated that bare labor and material costs do not, by a large margin, represent the total costs or value of property. There are items of expense that frequently do not appear in cost records and consequently, in attempting to determine the total value of the property after that property is complete and in operation, it becomes necessary to include in the unit costs such items of expense as may not be in the available records, but be directly assignable thereto. These expenses are classified under ten general heads, namely: Preliminary Engineering, Organization and Promoters Expense; Engineering During Construction; Legal Expense During Construction; Liability, Insurance, etc.; Administration During Construction; Contingencies During Construction; Omissions From Inventory; Discount on Security; Development Expense.

Under the first heading it is stated that, in arriving at the total value of an operating public utility, one must consider the expense of the original promoting who conceived the idea of building the property. This initiator, or promotor, doubtless has spent many months of his time in investigation of local conditions and commercial possibilities and in negotiations with municipal authorities in order to obtain the necessary franchises. It has been necessary in all probability for him to employ engineers and attorneys and he has undoubtedly incurred other expense. The charges under this head are therefore just as much a proper charge as under the other headings mentioned.

ADD UTILITIES

Eight Per Cent Reasonable Profit.—Under the head of development expense the engineers say, "We have included in our report an item of value to cover development expense. The basis for the determination of this item is an assumption that the property is entitled to earn, after deducting from its gross earnings all operating costs, taxes and a reasonable allowance for depreciation, a net return of at least 8 per cent on the investment. If the actual records show that the company has not earned this return in the past it is entitled to the accumulation of past deficits as part of its capital investment, representing the cost of developing the business. We have had access to the company's operating and construction reports and we find a detailed record of earnings and investment to be completed only from the period from 1906 to the present time. Appended to our report will be found a statement showing the annual and accumulative losses during this period, based upon an 8 per cent return."

Property Valuation.

A summary of valuation of property in all departments is as follows:

Electric department:

Jacksonville . . . $220,359.42
So. Jacksonville . . . 4,308.38
Total . . . $224,667.80

Gas Department:

Jacksonville . . . $299,593.23
So. Jacksonville . . . 5,760.99
Total . . . $305,354.22

Railway Department:

Jacksonville . . . $231,448.51
So. Jacksonville . . . 10,205.52
Total . . . $241,654.03

Total . . . $771,676.05
Portion of work under construction, completed Oct. 1, 1914 $2,775.96

Proposed construction expenditures . . . $60,000.00
Grand Total . . . $834,452.01

In figuring the valuation of property it has been necessary to go into a vast amount of detail and in the electrical department every pole, conductor, transformer, meter, lamp of every description necessarily had consideration. The same was true in the gas and street railway departments. In arriving at the value of the realty estimates were made by Messrs. O. F. Buffe and H. J. Rogers, W. E. Veitch and M. C. Hook and the average of their estimates was used in the inventory. In this way, for example, the average valuation of the car barn site was fixed at $6,092, and the ice plant property site at $2,092.

Deficits Shown by Table.

Appended to the descriptive portion of the inventory is a statement showing annual losses of the company's plants on a basis of 8 per cent returns. This covers the years from 1906 to 1913 inclusive and presents figures in tabulated form showing the net earnings, the average total reproduction value, depreciation, returns on investment, working capital, total annual charges, annual deficit and total deficit. Based on these figures the deficit in 1906 was $31,826.41 and in 1910 the figures had increased to $29,960.46. The following year the figures had decreased about $5,000 but in 1912 and 1913 still further increases were shown and in 1913 the deficit had grown to $50,851.86. The table shows that the total deficit for the eight years has been $302,037.03.

Another table goes into more detail than the one previously quoted and indicates that, while each year there has been a deficit, that during two years, that is 1911 and 1913, the electric department showed a profit. These profits, however, disappeared when figured in with the deficit from the gas and railway departments. The profit for 1911 is given as $3,684.07 and for 1913 as $1,459.19.

As already indicated the inventory is a very exhaustive and comprehensive piece of work and one can hardly get an accurate idea of the immense amount of work involved without an examination of the document. Superintendent W. B. Miser went by auto to Springfield Monday afternoon to file the inventory with the Utility Commission. During the time that some of the material for the inventory was being compiled an engineer for the Utility Commission worked with the company's engineers and is thus familiar with the plan followed and the basis used in the compilation of the figures and statistics. It now becomes the duty of the commission to examine this inventory and compare the data with that secured by its own engineers and the work which has gone before materially lessen the hugeness of the task which yet remains for the commission in passing upon the local situation.

In the afternoon the families took an automobile ride and in all the day was most happily spent.

Recently a jolly crowd of young people from Jacksonville and several couples from the Asbury neighborhood met at the home of J. A. Cookies cut in the form of old Mother Goose and geese delighted the children.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fisher, who live west of Chapin, entertained a company of friends very pleasantly Saturday night at a dancing party. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Porter orchestra, and all the arrangements for the occasion were such as to add greatly to the pleasure of the guests. About fifty persons were present, including Mrs. Owen Graff and children and George Clancy of this city.

CATTLE FEEDERS

Woods' Improved Grain Softener

Pat. Applied for 100 bu. size.

This wonderful device for softening grain, or cooking it will enable you to feed cattle without hogs following them, as the cattle digest all they eat when made digestible. If you have hogs you can feed them the soup of the corn, if not give it to your calves, or cattle.

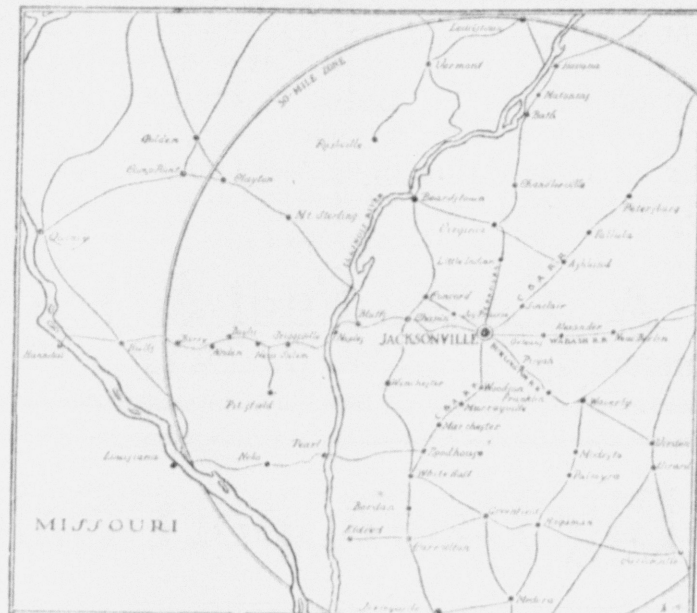

I find everything on the place like this much even the chickens do well on it, and they lay more eggs if fed on hot mush, with a little meat scraps mixed in it.

We can make a separate coil of pipe and place inside the furnace to heat the drinking water, without any trouble. This can be put to one side or used as a part of the grate where the hot coals lay on it all the time. This mush is the very thing to fatten poor horses on. It equals feeding green corn to them and is also great for dairy cows, makes them produce 1-4 more milk.

Yours for producing more beef and pork,

WILL NOT INTERFERE WITH GOVERNMENTS

SECRETARY BRYAN ISSUES EXPLANATORY STATEMENT.

Declares Inquiries Regarding Alleged Violations of Neutrality Laws in Ecuador and Colombia are Misinterpreted by Many.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Secretary Bryan issued a statement today declaring that the United States in making inquiries of its ministers in Ecuador and Colombia for information about alleged violation of neutrality, had no thought of interfering in the remotest way with the governments of the Latin-American countries.

Also Mr. Bryan gave out in behalf of the Colombian legation here a statement reciting the efforts of the Colombian government to censor wireless stations.

The first statement follows: "Some of the papers have entirely misunderstood the purpose and scope of the inquiries made. We simply asked our representatives to ascertain the facts and there has been no thought of interfering in the remotest way with the governments of the Latin-American countries."

"No request for interference has been made by either Great Britain or France. It would seem as if at a time like this the newspapers of this country would endeavor to assist the government instead of attempting to embarrass it by misinterpretation and inexcusable misconstruction of what it does."

The second statement said: "The Colombian legation here has given to the state department the following information with permission to make it public:

"The Colombian government has no wireless station on the Pacific coast. A private company owns a radio station on the Atlantic coast at Cartagena, but the government has a contract giving it full rights of inspection and censorship in case of war."

"Complaints having been made by the British legation that the office was not in the hands of a characterized expert the station was closed. Afterward the Colombian government employed a professional expert and opened the station."

"Further complaint having been made against the employment of aliens, all foreign employees were dismissed and since that time it has been handled by the government expert. Later a complaint has been made on the ground that plain words and phrases may be used with a conventional and secret meaning but the Colombian government has not felt that this was a sufficient reason for closing the station to commercial uses. This is the only pending question."

T. S. WILLIAMSON REACHES NINETY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Birthday Celebrated Sunday at His Home in Virginia.—Relatives From Jacksonville Were Present.

Ninety-five years ago Nov. 15th, which was last Sunday, a little boy was born in the town of Oldham, England, and the boy last Sunday celebrated the anniversary of his birth at his home in Virginia, Cass county, Illinois.

Thomas S. Williamson, the gentleman referred to, grew to manhood in his native town and shortly after attaining his majority was married and with his wife came from England direct to Jacksonville. Here they made their home for several years and then moved onto a farm a few miles of Jacksonville which Mr. Williamson had purchased. He afterwards at sundry time, purchased from the government, lands amounting in all to several hundred acres. The lands were known as "swamp lands" and were purchased at the rate of 25 cents an acre. Mr. Williamson about fifteen years ago losing his wife, moved into Virginia where he has since made his home. He is in excellent health and has the use of all his faculties, excepting his hearing which is defective. There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Williamson two sons and four daughters, and all are living. Three of the daughters, Misses Sarah, Mary and Emma, live at home with their father, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton at her home in Virginia, John S. on his farm in Cass county and James in the state of Michigan.

Sunday being the anniversary of their father's birth, the event was duly celebrated with a family dinner at which the father and all of his children with the exception of James in Michigan, were present. There was also present his brother, J. B. Williamson, and his nephew, Avery B. Williamson, both worthy citizens of Jacksonville. A happy day was passed and a fine dinner enjoyed. Mr. Williamson has for many years been connected with the Methodist church, but on account of defective hearing he does not attend often.

AMERICAN SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION

Conferences Concludes Session at Racine, Wisconsin.

J. R. Hastings, local missionary of the American Sunday school Union, has returned from the annual conference of that society, which was held in Racine, Wisconsin, from Nov. 5th, to the 12th.

The conference this year was very good. Rev. George P. Williams, D. D., secretary of Missions, and Prof. James McConaughy, editor of the publications, came from Philadelphia with some helpful and instructive addresses. In one of his addresses on rural conditions, Dr. Williams said in part, "Out of all the original churches in the rural districts of America, 60 per cent are reported as 'dead or dying.' There are 31,232,920 children and youth out of Sunday school. Out of this number 12,327,122 are in the country and these untaught constitute the task of the American Sunday school Union."

Prof. James McConaughy gave some splendid illustrated lectures on the Bible which were highly appreciated by the missionaries and the citizens of Racine. His addresses on the proper organization and maintenance of country Sunday schools were of special merit as well as addresses on teacher training etc. He is the author of a standard teacher training course, which is meeting with universal approval.

Other men of note, who addressed the conference were, Rev. Wm. W. Johnstone, D. D. of Chicago; Rev. Joseph Wellsof Des Moines; Rev. John O. Fervis of Minneapolis; Wm. Howard Hubbel of Milwaukee; Mr. Henry Fox of Philadelphia, and several pastors and laymen. All the missionaries had some part in the program, describing the character and needs of their fields and illustrating methods being employed to meet the needs. Several new men have been added to the missionary force during the year, but aside from this the personnel is the same as last year.

GOMPERS PREVENTS WAR AMONG UNIONS

PREVENTS PASSAGE OF INNOCENT-LOOKING RESOLUTION BY FEDERATION.

Resolution Would Have Been Practically Declaration of War Against Railroad Brotherhood Unless They Became Affiliated With the Federation.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—An attempt to place the American Federation of Labor in a position of warring against the big railroad brotherhoods unless they became affiliated with the federation was frustrated today by Samuel Gompers who took the floor at this afternoon's session of the federation's convention and fought an innocent-looking resolution back into the committee on organization which had reported it favorably. The resolution had been introduced by a delegate from the Central Labor Union of Hartford, Conn. It recited that at the present time there were national and local unions not affiliated with the federation that they were a menace to some of the unions and that efforts to have them affiliate had failed. The resolution instructed the officers of the federation to "proceed to organize such local or national unions, if such is possible."

J. B. Connors of the Switchmen's Union of North America, favored its adoption, giving as a reason that the brotherhoods had in some instances assisted the railroads to defeat the switchmen in strikes.

President Gompers took the floor and declared that the committee on organization had misapprehended the importance of the resolution when it recommended concurrence. He gave it as his opinion that the resolution permitted the setting up of rival unions and declared that it amounted to nothing else than a declaration of war. He believed in the solidarity of the labor movement in the United States, he continued, but he would not for a moment think of invading the sovereignty of a national labor union. During the last few years he went on to say, there has grown up a better feeling between the brotherhoods and the federation with the result that the railroad organizations had been of material and effective assistance in getting certain labor legislation through congress. The adoption of the resolution he declared, would be the most disastrous action against the existence of the federation the convention could take.

President Walker of the miner's union, opposed the resolution, declaring there was a growing sentiment in the ranks of the brotherhoods and the national organization for affiliation with the federation. The federation, he said, was more likely to win them into the organization by reasoning than by trying to drive them to affiliate. The railroad brotherhoods in Illinois, President Walker added, are strong for joining the Illinois Federation of Labor and expected that they would do so in a short time.

On motion of President Gompers the resolution was recommitted to the committee on organization.

Glasgow Reaches Rio Janeiro.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 16.—The British Cruiser Glasgow, which was one of the vessels engaged in the fight with the German squadron off the coast of Chile, November 1st, arrived here today. The damage caused by the German shell fire was plainly visible.

The British admiralty's statement on the sea fight off Chile said the Glasgow was engaged by both the Leipzig and Dresden of the German squadron while the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst were fighting the Good Hope and the Monmouth. It added, however, that the Glasgow was not extensively damaged and suffered few casualties.

After the battle the Glasgow, accompanied by the transport Otranto sailed south and passed through the Straits of Magellan to the Atlantic Ocean.

SAYS INDIANS ARE IRISHMEN.

Washington, Nov. 16.—That the Algonquin Indians came from the Quinn family of Tipperary, the Merrimacks and Mick-Macks from Donegal, and that the North American Indians were originally of Irish extraction, were the statements made here recently by Rev. Thomas J. Gasson, formerly a missionary among the Indians. Dr. Gasson was speaking before an Irish society, and was telling of his life among the tribes. He admitted, however, that his claim has not yet been fully proven by history.

Sight Damaged Dirigible.

Amsterdam, Nov. 16.—via London.—The Telegraaf learns from Maestricht, Holland, that yesterday a badly damaged dirigible airship flew over Limburg, Holland, coming from the direction of Belgium. It was evident that the airship had been damaged, either by artillery fire or in a storm. When over Maestricht the airship disappeared in the direction of Germany. Another dirigible was observed yesterday from Sittard, 23 miles northwest of Maestricht, coming from the southeast and flying in a northerly direction along the Holland frontier.

Collapses on German Frontier.

London, Nov. 16.—The correspondent of the Evening News at Rotterdam gives the following version of the Zeppelin airship reported in distress near Maestricht, Holland, yesterday:

"A storm tossed Zeppelin passed near Maestricht yesterday afternoon. It was flying low in an almost vertical position and making erratic, jerky movements. The members of the crew were clinging to lines to save themselves from being thrown out."

"The airship was badly damaged in the rear, but by desperate efforts managed to reach the German frontier, where it collapsed a total wreck."

IRISHMEN ARE INDIANS.

Washington, Nov. 16.—That the Algonquin Indians came from the Quinn family of Tipperary, the Merrimacks and Mick-Macks from Donegal, and that the North American Indians were originally of Irish extraction, were the statements made here recently by Rev. Thomas J. Gasson, formerly a missionary among the Indians. Dr. Gasson was speaking before an Irish society, and was telling of his life among the tribes. He admitted, however, that his claim has not yet been fully proven by history.

Disgruntled

"These floors I have to sweep and swab," the janitor exclaimed; "it is indeed a beastly job, of which I am ashamed. I was designed for better things and higher, heaven knows; I should be fiddling with the strings of lyres and things like those. I cannot do such work with cast, it's not my proper sphere; I'm sick of it, and I'll be blest if I shall tarry here." Then came the boss, who seemed to be depressed and sad and tired, and to the janitor said he, "Go chase yourself! You fared! You uncer hold." The janitor has time to burn, commencing with his soul; and how he envies those who earn each week, their little roll! How well he'd like to sweep and swab, and light the fire at dawn. In vain he ruffles for a job—and winter's coming on. Though we must do some work we hate, let's wield a willing hand, for he's the wisest sort of skate, who keeps his grouches canned. We may desire a higher sphere, but, till our chance arrives, let's do our work without a tear, for thus the toiler thrives."

CATTLE PLAGUE ENDANGERS THE GENERAL MILK SUPPLY

People Are Advised to Make Milk Safe Before Using—State Board of Health Tells How This May Be Done.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—The appearance of foot and mouth disease among cattle in several widely separated regions of Illinois and surrounding states, and the imminent danger of involvement of the dairying herds, prompts the Secretary of the State Board of Health, Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, to issue a warning to the people of the state to immediately discontinue the consumption of raw milk, and to use only milk and cream which has been properly sterilized by pasteurization. This warning applies to all grades of milk, even the certified variety.

To be certain that your milk supply is safe, the State Board of Health advises that it be pasteurized in the home and for this purpose, the following simple method of pasteurization is described:

Home Pasteurization of Milk.
In a tin pail of about eight inches diameter and six or seven inches height, place an ordinary saucer face up. On the saucer stand your bottle of milk, leaving the paper cap on the bottle but perforating it slightly by piercing with a clean, two pronged fork. Now add enough lukewarm water to the pail to bring the top level of the water to a point about half way up the bottle and then place the pail and its contents on the stove for heating. Watch the water in the pail closely and the moment the water begins to boil, remove the bottle of milk from the pail and cool it as rapidly as possible, not forgetting of course, the danger of breaking the bottle by too rapid cooling. Finally seal the perforations in the cap.

You now have a bottle of pasteurized milk. It must, however, be kept cool and clean if it is to remain safe for use.

If you do not get your milk in bottles you may keep one on hand for this pasteurization process, or you may use a small porcelain lined or granite pail instead of the bottle. If you use a small pail, see that the cover is somewhat loosened before starting the heating process. If you keep a bottle on hand for this purpose, see that the bottle is clean and sweet before turning the milk into it.

This pasteurization of the milk will not only protect you against the infection now so prevalent among cattle, but also it will insure you against any milk borne infection such as typhoid fever and scarlet fever, two diseases which are more or less prevalent at the present time.

Although there were an unusual number of forest fires in the national forests of Oregon and Washington this year, the loss of merchantable timber has been relatively small.

The propellers of aeroplanes such as are used in the present European war may be made of selected ash, which is both strong and light and will not split under vibration or shock, or of built-up layers of spruce with mahogany centers. The framework of the machines, too, is generally made of wood, spruce being much used on account of its straight grain and freedom from hidden defects.

A surprisingly large number of substances, ranging all the way from the condensed fumes of smelters to the skimmed milk of creameries, have been tried or suggested as a means of preserving wood from decay. Most of them, however, have been found to have little or no value for the purpose. Certain forms of coal-tar creosote and zinc chloride are the most widely used wood preservatives.

It is said that the German invaders of Belgium, whatever else they may have destroyed, have been careful not to injure park trees. The cavalrymen, so a report goes, are forbidden to tie their horses to trees for fear that the animals will gnaw the bark. Germany was the first nation to apply forestry on a large scale, some of the crown forests having been under scientific management for over a hundred years.

THE KNOCKER'S PRAYER.

A Journal reader has submitted the following taken from a paper in a neighboring city.

Lord, please don't let this town grow. I've been here for thirty years, and during that time I've fought every public movement. I've knocked everything and everybody, no firm or individual has established a business here without my doing all I could to put a crimp in them. I've lied about them and would have stolen from them if I had had the courage. I have done all I could to keep the town from growing, and never have spoken a good word for it. I have knocked hard and often. I have put ashes on the children's slide, and I've made the marshal stop the boys from playing ball on my vacant lot. Whenever I saw anyone prospering or enjoying themselves, I've started a reform to kill the business or stop the fun. I don't want the young folks to stay in this town, and I will do all I can by law, rule and ordinance to drive them away. It pains me, O Lord, to see that in spite of my knocking it is that in spite of my knocking it is that I will be called upon to put down sidewalks in front of my property and who knows but what I may have to help keep up the streets that run by my premises? This, Lord, would be more than I could bear. It would cost me money, though all I have was made right here in this town. Then, too, more people might come if this town begins to grow, which would cause me to lose some of my pull. I ask, therefore, to keep this town at a standstill, that I may continue to be the chief. Amen.

FOREIGN COMMERCE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

STATISTICS FROM LEADING PORTS OF ENTRY SHOW INCREASED BUSINESS.

Secretary McAdoo Keeping in Close Touch With Foreign Commerce of This Country, Receiving Daily Reports from Largest Custom Houses.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The pulse of the nation's foreign commerce is showing steady improvement, according to the daily telegraphic statements received by Secretary McAdoo from the ten leading ports of entry.

Important business of last Saturday based on reports from ports handling eighty seven per cent of all imports, amounted to $2,330,512; exports from these ports, handling seventy-two per cent of all exports amounted to $10,421,551. The daily average for these ports in November, 1913, was:

Imports $4,923,397; exports, $6,933,427.

Secretary McAdoo determined last month to keep in closest touch with the foreign commerce of the United States noting from day to day the fluctuations of imports and exports. To that end he ordered the ten largest custom houses to make daily reports by wire of their business. The result tabulated with comparative figures and as laid on Mr. McAdoo's desk affords instant information as to the course of foreign trade.

Since the first of November the total of the import report is $51,627,759; export $77,599,600. Since October 5th, the totals have been: imports $156,627,759; exports, $215,300,874.

AZOTURIA, A COLD-WEATHER DISEASE OF HORSES

With the approach of cold weather horse owners should guard against azoturia, which occurs almost invariably in well-conditioned animals and claims many victims, especially during the winter season.

Various local names have been given to this disease, among which may be mentioned "lumbago," "spinal meningitis" and "black water." The two former terms have been applied owing to the hard and swollen condition of the muscles of the loins and croup and the loss of control of the hind parts commonly observed in these cases, and the latter name is descriptive of the urine, which is usually of a dark coffee color.

While azoturia may occur at any season of the year it is but seldom observed during the warm weather of summer. It usually appears in highly fed, well-nourished animals, which, though accustomed to regular work, have remained idle for one or more days without a corresponding reduction in the rations.

As a rule the animal is attacked suddenly soon after leaving the stable, apparently perfect condition. The attack may occur after 5 or 10 minutes' driving or, in some cases, several hours after the horse has left the stable.

Among the first symptoms are a staggering of the hind parts, knuckling at the pasterns, and profuse perspiration. In spite of such spasms in muscles of the hind parts the horse attempts to go on until he soon falls helplessly. Unusually there are efforts to rise, but as a rule the animal is unable to stand even should he regain his feet, and it becomes necessary to remove him to the stable on a wagon, shed, or drag.

Horses attacked with azoturia should be immediately freed from the wagon and harness and be provided with ample straw or other bedding to protect them from injury incidental to the struggle to regain their feet. Especial care must be taken to prevent heating of the head upon the ground, and if the patient is very restless a strong man should place his knees upon the animal's neck and hold the head firmly upon the ground. Throw a warm blanket over the prostrate horse and arrange immediately for his removal to a stable, where a commodious and well-bedded box stall should be provided, or, if such is not available, the barn floor or a comfortable shed can be utilized.

In the meantime a qualified veterinarian should be summoned, azoturia being a disease which requires skillful treatment and careful nursing. Until the horse is able to stand it will be necessary to pass a catheter and draw the urine at least twice a day, and also, as an item of nursing, to turn the animal from side to side at frequent intervals, in order to avoid development of bed sores. Both treatment and nursing are best carried out under direction of a skilled veterinarian who is equipped with required instruments and can apply treatment as indicated in each individual case.

Various theories have been advanced in explanation of the true cause and nature of azoturia. A majority of investigators, however, are inclined to the belief that it is an auto-intoxication. The fact that development of a disease is favored by rich feeding and a period of idleness tends to lend weight to such hypothesis. For practical purposes, however, it is sufficient for the owner of good horses to know that the disease may be prevented with the greatest certainty by reducing the ration of grain when the horses are not working and by exercising his horses daily.

UNIFIED FREIGHT TERMINAL FOR CHICAGO

Proposition Outlined is Similar to That Used in England.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—Plans for a unified freight terminal system, owned by one company and serving all railroads, was outlined today by Frank A. Spink, traffic manager of the Chicago and Western Indiana and the Belt Railway of Chicago. The plan is similar to that now in operation in large cities of England. He contemplates the formation of a separate organization to be known as the Chicago Terminals Company, not organized by railroad officials, but by others, who would purchase and control the terminals. "Let the duty of the railroads cease at the junction of their lines with the terminal system," said Mr. Spink. "The Interstate Commerce Commission, by means of its regulations regarding terminal charges, is gradually forcing the railroads to adopt some plan which will do away with the countless terminals which are now in operation. It would prove a great economy to the railroads. The freight rates would be fixed on a basis of the regular rate to the junction of the terminal, plus certain terminal charges, which would be fixed by the terminal company under the direction of the State Utilities Commission. It would save many railroads thousands of dollars in operating expenses."

VACCINATED HOGS.

Raymond Doane of Griggsville was in the city Saturday. For some weeks his time has been devoted to the vaccinating of hogs for the prevention of diseases to which they are most liable. He had just come from the farm of Hairgrove and Way west of the city where he had placed immune twenty seven head of hogs for those gentlemen, having on a previous visit vaccinated a larger number of the gentlemen. Mr. Doane stated that during the past two weeks he had immunized 4900 head of hogs and during the past two years he had vaccinated 7,000. Before asked if the remedy was to be relied on he said it certainly is or I would be out of the business. Next week he will be engaged in the east part of the county.

CHILDREN HATE OIL,

CALOMEL AND PILLS

"California Syrup of Figs" Best for Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—advertisement.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES

DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

AN APPRECIATION OF

FRANK BRISTOW

Mention was made in Sunday's Journal of the death of Frank Bristow at his home in Kentucky. In speaking of this long time friend, an acquaintance said yesterday:

"Frank Bristow! Well, Frank's gone. A few years ago he wrote a letter calling the roll of some of his comrades in the 101st Ill. Regt. There were only two or three of them left, he being one. Now he has reported above!"

"Frank Leslie Bristow was a son of Benjamin H. Bristow, a whilom Methodist preacher and Democratic politician of this community. His father was circuit clerk for some years, and the family lived in the brick and frame house on Collette street, southwest corner of Fayette. There were two or three girls and three boys, Benjamin and Edmund Jockody went south before the war and served in the southern army. Frank stayed in north and served in the 101st regiment of Illinois volunteers. The family were all very bright intellectually, both boys and girls. The boys were the kind of people that everybody knew. They were 'hale fellow well met' and popular. 'Hook' was back here after the war and delivered an acceptable address, either before the alumni association or Phi Alpha society of Illinois college. All of the Bristow boys were members of Phi Alpha society. And Frank's gone!"

"He belonged to the class of 1866, Illinois college, of which Joseph N. Carter, Martin H. Cassell, William Henry Foster, Oliver Scott Green, James Dinwiddie Masters and Francis Ashbury Taylor were the other members. Most of them have gone. On cannot think of the boys going away, that one used to know in college and on the street, and that have done their part in life some with more and some with less of honor. It is not hard to hope that when the heavenly call was given to Frank Bristow he was able to answer 'here.'"

MONEY FOR WAR SUFFERERS.

Pineblow, N. J., Nov. 16.—Nearly four thousand dollars was collected between the halves of the Yale-Pineblow football game last Saturday for the benefit of sufferers in the European war zone. The contributions ranged from one cent to ten dollars and almost filled a flour barrel, amounting to exactly $3,927.49. The counting of the money which will be sent to the Red Cross headquarters at Washington was just completed tonight.

THE HISTORY OF A PROMINENT FAMILY.

(By Ensley Moore).

The Robert Morrisons.

It is a long way from Scotland or Ireland, or was in the days of slow sailing vessels, to North America, but the Morrisons name came from Scotland, as the Gillhams came from Ireland; and America joined some of each name, and the children were Scotch-Irish Americans.

Morgan county included Cass in the days when the Morrisons came to Illinois, and Morgan had not been born of Madison or Greene when the Gillhams came to what was afterwards Morgan, and then Scott county. But the Morrisons-Gillham family of Robert's tribe lived in Scott, in Morgan and in Cass; all a part of Morgan at first.

The Robert Morrisons were good people, and that is not saying the other Morrisons were not. And the Robert Morrisons united with the fine Irish Gillhams, and they did not apparently lose by the marriage. The "old-country" people always made the man the head of the house, so we will take up the Morrisons first.

Four Morrisons, Nathaniel, Joseph, Andrew and James were in Scotland in about the year of 1700. Nathaniel was credited with sons James Andrew, Nathaniel and Richard, in Scotland, about 1730. This last James, born in Scotland, about 1730 came to America early in the eighteenth century and settled in good old Virginia. He was so patriotic that he was with Washington at Braddock's defeat (July 9, 1755) which seems to be the first date the conscientious Scotchmen would swear to. James had gotten into the fighting habit, as many folks did in those days, so he went through the whole Revolutionary war, and came out safe enough to die in Virginia. James was credited with two sons: John, born in Virginia in 1733 and Nathaniel, born in Virginia in 1734, died in Illinois in 1833.

This John had a family which beat the suggestion of seven children badly.

He was born in Bath City, Greenbrier county, Virginia, now West Virginia, Nov. 10, 1733, and married Mary McCorkle (daughter of Robert and Jane (Forest) McCorkle) who was born in Virginia, July 26, 1737. Her father was a Revolutionary soldier.

John and Mary Morrison removed to Lawrence county, Ohio, in 1813 thence to Pike county, Ohio; from there to Morgan county, Ill., now Scott, near Oxxville. Here John died August 15, 1852, and was buried in the Sears grave yard, near Bluffs. Mary died March 28, 1855, and was buried beside her husband. They were the parents of Jane, Elizabeth, James, Robert, John, Andrew, Julia Ann, Henry B., Mary, Elizabeth Jane, Lianah, Josephine, Sarah and Richard. Elizabeth died in infancy; all the rest grew up and were married.

Robert, son of John and Mary Morrison, was born in Bath City, Greenbrier county, Virginia, Dec. 12, 1811, and taken by his parents to Lawrence county, Ohio, in 1813 thence to Oxxville, Illinois, in 1832. He married Alvira A. Gillham, oldest daughter of James and Sarah (Lottin) Gillham, December 8, 1836. Miss Gillham was born May 21, 1821, and she died in Iowa, April 21, 1885. They began house-keeping near Oxxville, where Mr. Morrison farmed and he also went to merchandizing in Naples. In the forties, probably, and afterwards moved to Naples. The family went to a farm about seven miles southeast of Jacksonville, in 1854 and thence, in 1877, to Virginia, Ill., where Mr. Morrison was a merchant. He moved again, in 1882, to Fremont county, Iowa, where he died June 27, 1889. He and his wife sleep side by side in Locust Grove cemetery, twelve miles south of Shenandoah, Iowa.

And it is a long way from Old Virginia to South Carolina, especially a mover-wagon and horse-drawn days to Illinois, and further yet to the far western side of Iowa. So the older Morrisons and Gillhams have come the seas over, and sailed the prairie schooner across the broad land, and Robert and Alvira may well rest, side by side in the land of the setting sun.

But Alvira Adelaide Morrison was a Gillham.

Her daughter, Mrs. Josephine M. Pierson, now living near Farragut, Iowa, shall tell of the Gillhams, and of the family of Robert and Alvira Morrison. Mrs. Pierson's parents are as follows:

"My mother was born May 21, 1821, on the farm four miles north of Winchester, before Winchester was located.

"Her father, James Gillham, was Lieutenant Colonel of the First Illinois regiment in the Black Hawk war. Abraham Lincoln was a captain in the fourth regiment of that war.

Thomas Gillham was the first of the name to come to America, settling in Augusta county, Virginia, in 1730. In 1763 the family moved to South Carolina. Thomas Gillham has seven sons and four sons-in-law were all in the Revolutionary war. His youngest son, Isaac, was the father of James.

The sons (of Thomas) and families, and daughters also moved to Illinois, coming in 1795 to 1802 to Madison county. A writer in a history of Illinois, writing in 1814, said that at the time of the contest in 1824 the Gillham family and their relatives, numbering about five hundred, cast the deciding vote against slavery in Illinois.

The Gillhams were unalterably opposed to slavery.

The Gillham family were from Ireland, or rather Thomas was, but his second wife was in Virginia when they were married; afterwards they moved to the vicinity of Charleston, S. C., as previously stated. They were Presbyterians. Mrs. James Gillham's maiden name was Sarah Lottin.

Our ancestor Samuel Lottin, came from Wales to North Carolina, afterwards moving to Charleston, S.

C. His son, Samuel, Jr., was the father of Sarah Love Lottin, wife of James Gillham, our grandfather.

There were at least two family histories of the Gillhams published but I have never been able to secure one of them.

James Gillham, my grandfather, bought and improved land four miles north of Winchester, in "North Prairie". He wanted timber, prairie and water. On the land he selected was a fine spring. It has never failed. The Indians passed it regularly in their travels. He improved this half section in the fall of 1820. His brothers and sisters were settled not far from Edwardsville, and near St. Louis. The Gillhams who came to Illinois in the last centuries 1795 to 1802, all were in Madison county. Indeed, in 1820, when the James Gillham homestead was bought it was still in Madison county (Madison, Greene, Morgan, then Scott).

Some Gillhams, sons, I believe of William, cousins of grandfather, settled a mile north of James' (grandfather of ours). The Gillham cemetery is on part of the farm of "Billy" Gillham. This other branch of the family first went to Jerseyville. John D. Gillham was of that line.

All the children of the original Thomas Gillham, except one son and two daughters, who were married and settled in the south, came to the vicinity between East St. Louis, as it is now called, and Edwardsville. St. Louis, at the time they came to Illinois, was only a French and Indian village.

These ancestors are buried at Wanda cemetery, at the railroad station of Wanda, a village a short distance from Edwardsville, Ill.

Returning to the Robert Morrisons, it may be said that Mr. Morrison's maternal grandfather, Robert McCorkle, was in the Revolutionary war, and Robert Morrison was named for him.

John Morrison and family moved from Virginia into Ohio. Father taught school there for a while when quite a young man. Then, in 1832 the John Morrison family moved into Illinois, and settled south of Naples.

When father and mother were married, Dec. 8, 1836, grandfather, John M., had one of the three cooking stoves in the vicinity. It was one of those "step-stoves," but the fire-place was still utilized for cooking at that time.

Grandfather, John Morrison, owned two thousand acres of scattered farms, on which he placed his sons. So his daughter, Elizabeth Sears, lately deceased, told me in 1907. Grandfather always farmed and dealt in cattle. He sold cattle before any farm scales were in the west, they often took an average sized animal and killed it and quartered it, and weighed the parts.

Andrew and Henry B., brothers of my father, Robert Morrison, had farms over about Chambersburg, in Pike county, Illinois, where Andrew died.

James, the older brother of Robert Morrison, was the father of the late Mrs. Margaret Turley, of Jacksonville.

Richard, youngest brother of Robert Morrison, was the father of Mrs. Jennie, wife of Mr. J. Eckhardt Hofmann, of Jacksonville; where she now resides.

Father, while still living on his farm south of Naples, quarter of a mile west and south of Oxxville, bought and kept a general store in Naples. At first going back and forth from the farm. His store faced east on the bank of the river, being opposite the McCuskey hotel. The store had the largest stock of dry goods, groceries, hardware, etc., there. We children, after father moved to town, greatly enjoyed standing in the back door, that had strong bars across it, and watching boats unload and load freight and passengers. The landing was just north of the store. I think we moved into Naples in 1848 or 1849 and lived there till 1854 when we moved to the farm southeast of Jacksonville.

Peter D. Critzer was clerking for father in 1854—so you see your articles have been of real interest to my sister and others of the family. She and Belle Mooers quite well.

Josephine Morrison, daughter of John and Mary and sister of Robert, married Thomas Hollowbush, of Naples, being his first wife. They were married Dec. 23, 1845, and she died Sept. 19, 1847. Sarah, her sister next younger, was the first wife of O. D. Critzer, and she died in Naples, Illinois, where she and Mrs. Hollowbush were buried. Both spent their married life in Naples, died quite young, and neither had any children. Another sister, Elizabeth Jane, born in 1824, married Washington Sears, living near Naples, and died in 1891. Still another, Hannah, born in 1826, married Dr. Jacob Dietrich and died at Hutchinson, Kansas in 1913.

The room above the Robert Morrison store (in Naples) was fitted up and used as a hall by the Odd Fellows and Masons. I remember among other decorations, the eye. The Sons of Temperance, a junior temperance boys society, were kindly urged to meet there. Brother John was about the youngest who was enrolled. I have an impression that father's store later, was moved a little further south, and used as a warehouse.

These paragraphs in quotations are in part in words of Mrs. Pierson, and all substantially as stated by her.

The children of Robert and Alvira A. (Gillham) Morrison were Sarah Louise, born Feb. 19, 1839, died Feb. 9, 1851; Elizabeth, born March 28, 1840, married first to Humphrey and second to McMillan; John Gillham, born Nov. 27, 1842, married first Miss Mary Rees, second Mrs. Ella King Smith, died June 25, 1900, at Lincoln, Neb., and buried there; Josephine, born Nov. 1, 1845, married Dr. Theodore F. Pierson, of Springfield, Ill.; Thomas Ashbury, born July 10, 1848, married Miss Hitchcock of Cass County, Ill.; Chas. Robert, born Nov. 27, 1852, married Miss Margaret Rees, sister of John G.'s first wife of Jacksonville; William Wesley, twin with Charles R.

KNOW

WHAT KIND OF MEAT

YOU ARE EATING

United States inspectors employed by the government inspect every animal that is brought to our pens, both before and after being killed. Every piece of meat that leaves our house has this stamp on it,

"U. S. Inspected and Passed

which means that it has been inspected and found to be free from disease.

Isn't it worth a good deal to you to know that when you buy meat with the government inspector's label on it, that it is absolutely wholesome and healthy in every respect?

In buying meat always demand this label and you will always get the best.

FIRE PREVENTION FROM A LEGISLATIVE VIEWPOINT

Excerpt From a Speech by State Fire Marshal Walter H. Bennett Before the National Convention of State Fire Marshals at Asheville, North Carolina.

"It is provided by the statutes of Illinois that in all actions against any railroad company for the recovery of damages on account of any injury to any property, whether real or personal, occasioned by fire communicated by any locomotive engine while upon or passing along any railroad in this state, the fact that such fire was so communicated shall be taken as full prima facie evidence to charge with negligence the railroad company causing such fire.

"If a man operating a carriage upon a public highway, either by himself or his servants, is responsible in damages for his negligence; if a person operating a dangerous machinery is liable for injuries negligently caused thereby; if a railroad company is called upon to pay for all fires caused by its engines;—if all these things are proper subjects for legislation,—why should not individuals be likewise responsible for injuring others by their willful negligence in setting fires or allowing them to occur?"

"What good reason can you assign for not writing into the law of Illinois a provision which shall be substantially as follows:

A New Act.

Be It Enacted By The People of the State of Illinois—That in all actions against any person, company or corporation for the recovery of damages on account of any loss or injury to any property, real or personal, occasioned by fire communicated from property owned by one party to property owned by another party, the fact that such fire was so communicated shall be sufficient evidence to charge the occupant of the property, in which the fire originated, with negligence, and place the burden of proof of due care upon him, and, in case of a recovery of damages, any insurance at the time of such fire upon the property owned by the occupant of the building in which the fire originated shall first be used to pay the loss and damage on the property destroyed by reason of such communication: Provided: That this Act shall not apply to lightning fires, nor incendiary fires for which the occupant is in no way responsible."

Oratory.
Speaking of Wendell Phillips' remarkable gifts as an orator, Horace Greely paid him the highest compliment when he said that there wasn't a boy who heard Phillips speak but thought he could speak as well—he spoke so naturally. Of the great orator Garrett it is related that he did not please country people or others unused to the stage because he was so natural that he did not seem to be acting at all.

Animal Scent.
A fox can scent a man half a mile away if the wind be blowing in the animal's direction. A mouse can smell cheese fifty feet away. A deer may be sound asleep, and yet he will catch the scent of a person passing 200 feet off. The rabbit depends more upon his ears than his nose.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

WHEAT TRADERS UNPREPARED
FOR IMMENSE GRAIN IN SUPPLY

Enlargement of More Than Five Million Bushels Gives Wheat a Downward Swing.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Surprise over an immense gain shown in the United States visible supply gave a downward swing today to the price of wheat. Closing quotations were steady but 1/4¢ to 3/4¢ under Saturday night. Corn suffered a net loss of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ and oats of 1/4¢ to 3/4¢.

In provisions, the outcome varied from 5¢ decline to an advance of

Wheat traders had expected an increase of the visible supply but were unprepared for an enlargement of 5,335,000 bushels for November, the big record at the corresponding time a year ago, 3,665,000. In Chicago alone, the stock on hand was augmented by more than 1,000,000 bushels during last week. The aggregate of the domestic supply now in store is the largest in years. Furthermore, receipts continued heavy today at the primary terminals reaching 3,008,000 bushels as against 1,825,000 bushels last year.
Colder weather that favored the harvesting of the new crop had an influence on the corn market. Receipts were liberal and the export demand which of late has been a feature was lacking. Oats tended to sag with corn. Besides there seemed to be something of a let up in the call for cash oats.

NEW REVENUE LAW TO AFFECT VARIOUS LINES

Bankers, Theatre Managers and Tobacco Dealers Among Those Who Must Pay.

Some provisions of the new war tax measure are as follows: "Dealers in tobacco, not especially provided for in this section, whose annual receipts from the sale of tobacco shall exceed $200, shall each pay $4.80 for each store, shop or other place in which tobacco in any form is sold.

"Every person whose business it is to sell or offer for sale, manufacture tobacco, snuff, cigars or cigarettes shall be regarded as a dealer in tobacco. Provided, That no manufacturer of tobacco, snuff, cigars or cigarettes shall be required to pay a special tax as a dealer in manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars or cigarettes for selling his own products at the place of manufacture."

Tax on Tobacco Dealers. Manufacturers of tobacco are required to pay a minimum tax of $6 when the annual sales do not exceed $100,000 pounds and a maximum tax of $2,496 when the annual sales exceed twenty million pounds. We have some manufacturers of tobacco in Decatur but not one whose tax will reach the maximum.

Cigar manufacturers pay a minimum tax of $6 a year when their annual sales exceed one hundred thousand cigars and do not exceed two hundred thousand, and a maximum of $2,496 when their annual sales exceed forty million cigars. There is at least one dealer in Jacksonville whose special war tax under this schedule will be over $200 and whose annual sales must therefore exceed one million cigars and must not exceed five million. This special tax on tobacco went into effect Nov. 1 and is therefore now in operation.

All pawnbrokers shall pay a special tax of $30. "Every person, firm or company whose business it is to take or receive, by way of pledge, pawn or exchange, any goods, wares or merchandise, or any kind of personal property whatever, as security for the payment of money loaned thereon, shall be deemed a pawnbroker."

"Proprietors of theatres, museums or concert halls where a charge for admission is made, having a seating capacity of not more than 250 shall pay $25; having a seating capacity of more than 250 and not to exceed 500, shall pay $50; having a seating capacity exceeding 500 and not exceeding 800, shall pay $75;

having a seating capacity of more than 800 shall pay $100. Every edifice used for the purpose of dramatic or operatic or other representations, plays or performances, for admission to which entrance money is received, not including halls or armories used or rented occasionally for concerts or theatrical representations shall be regarded as a theatre; Provided, that whenever such edifice is under lease at the passage of this act the tax shall be paid by the lessee unless otherwise stipulated by the parties to the said lease."

Row Bankers Must Pay. "Bankers shall pay $1 for each $1,000 of capital used or employed, and in estimating capital, surplus and undivided profits shall be counted. The amount of capital, surplus and undivided profits for the preceding year shall be taken as the basis for computing the tax." "Every person, firm or company, and every incorporated or other bank having a place of business where credits are opened by the deposit or collection of money or currency, subject to be paid or remitted upon draft, check or order, or where money is advanced or loaned upon stocks, bonds, bullion, bills of exchange, or promissory notes, are received for discount or sale, shall be a banker under this act."

Any postal savings bank or savings bank without capital is not included in this act.

HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE ON SAVAGE FARM

It is stated that the hoof and mouth disease is prevalent on the farm of Louis Savage in the Ashland neighborhood in a malignant form. Mr. Savage has 65 head of cattle and 400 hogs on his place and some of the animals are said to be badly affected with the disease. The farm is under strict quarantine and it is stated that Mr. Savage has been ordered to kill many of the animals, but that he is there by himself and naturally cannot accomplish this alone. Cattle on the farm of Larva Trotter of the Sinclair neighborhood were recently inspected by Dr. Scott and are under observation. There was no evidence of the disease present but the cattle came from Tallula and were received with some cattle afterward affected with the disease. J. W. Arnold also has some cattle purchased at Tallula and they were recently examined by Dr. Scott, but like the Trotter cattle, there was no evidence of the disease manifest, although they will be closely watched.

U. S. PHYSICIAN WRITES OF GERMAN HOSPITAL CONDITIONS

Would Not Know Country Was at War Were It Not For the Wounded.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Mail reports from two of the American red cross hospital units in Germany reached headquarters here today. In a letter dated Kosel, Silesia, Germany, October 19, Dr. Bial F. Bradbury of Norway, Maine wrote: "I have to report that Unit G. is finely located at Kosel, being attached to a military hospital of some 800 beds and having 700 wounded on hand. The hospital is made up of nine buildings and our unit has complete charge of several wards. We have a fine operating room, etc.

Unit I. is at Gleirwitz and well located, about one hour's ride from here. We hear and see no evidence of cruelty other than expected. Every one has been extremely kind. Other than the wounded I would not know this country was at war."

LICENSED TO MARRY. J. Cleve Emmons, Exeter; Ethel Gerdes, Chandlerville.

REV. HORACE REED DIES AT HOME IN DECATUR

For Over Fifty Years a Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church Passes Away at the Age of 74 Years—Was Former Pastor and Resident of Jacksonville.

Rev. Horace Reed, who last year celebrated fifty years of ministerial work in the Illinois conference died at 12:55 Sunday afternoon at his late residence, 1616 North Main street, Decatur, at the age of 74 years. Last spring he suffered a paralytic stroke, and since that time had never been well, although he was able to be about. His health began to fail about two months ago and he has gradually weakened. Members of his family only have been permitted at his bedside as his attending physician said the time was short.

Rev. Horace Reed was born in Geauga county, Ohio, Jan. 9, 1841. He enlisted in the union army as a member of Company A. Eighty-ninth regiment, Ohio infantry, Aug. 26, 1862 and was honorably discharged on account of sickness July 29, 1863.

He married Miss Annie M. Mapes in Centralia, Ill., Feb. 20, 1867 and besides his widow he leaves one son, Rev. Clarence Reed, of Palo Alto, Calif., three daughters, Mary Luella Reed of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Roy W. Sanner of Decatur and Mrs. George R. Coffman of Missoula, Montana.

For a number of years Dr. Reed has given many lectures in Illinois and was secretary and organizer of the purity reform movement. Was well known in Methodism and recognized for his ability and his power in the pulpit. He was always a prominent figure in the conference. At the last conference held in Shelbyville in September, he preached his semi-centennial sermon. Mr. Reed was for many years a member of the Book committee of the Methodist church and he effected several changes in the Methodist publications. For a great many years he served in the capacity of District Superintendent. He was pastor of Centenary M. E. church, this city in 1879-81 and was presiding elder of the West Jacksonville district 1893-96. He also did great work as field agent of the Illinois Woman's college.

His record in the ministry follows:

MISSION STUDY CIRCLE MEETS.

The regular meeting of the Mission Study circle of the Congregational church was held Monday evening with Mrs. F. C. Coe, 901 Edgemoor Hill road, with a good attendance. The third section of the book, "The American Indian on a New Trail," was reviewed by Arthur D. Fairbank, the subject being "Alaskan Indians and Neglected Tribes." ### FUNERAL SERVICES HELD MONDAY FOR MISS SARAH M. STACY

Last Rites Held at Family Home, 1106 South Clay Avenue—Rev. W. W. Theobald, Pastor of Brooklyn, Offers Touching Tribute.

Funeral services for Miss Sarah M. Stacy were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family residence, 1106 South Clay avenue, in the presence of a considerable number of relatives and friends, with the Rev. W. W. Theobald, pastor of Brooklyn M. E. church, in charge. Rev. Mr. Theobald was assisted by the Rev. G. W. Flanagan, who read the Twenty-third Psalm and other scripture beloved by the deceased. A touching tribute was offered by the minister, who referred to the deceased as a true Christian soldier and one who never tired in the battle for the right. He took his text from Psalms 116-15, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints." Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. W. P. Duncan, Mrs. T. H. Rapp, John L. Johnson and T. H. Rapp. Miss Lottie Stacy, Mrs. Wilhelmina Cheek, Miss Nettie Platt and Miss Martha Hoover cared for the many beautiful flowers.

Burial was made at Diamond Grove cemetery. The bearers were Eugene Jerald, Clarence Jerald, A. R. Gregory, Sr.; John L. Johnson, W. C. Bealmear and T. H. Rapp.

Among the relatives from a distance were Abraham Kenney of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bealmear of Sinclair, Mrs. Hannah Ferguson of Kansas City, Mrs. J. B. Allen and Mrs. Claude Beacham of Centralia, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan R. Jerald and E. S. and C. H. Jerald of Springfield.

"Though for us this is a time of sorrow," said the pastor, "death is for her a triumph. I knew Miss Stacy so much less perfectly than did many of you that I feel my inability to pay her memory adequate tribute, but I do know that during the time of my acquaintance with her as a member of my congregation she has been full of hope and ambition, has been constant in the Lord's work and has at all times been faithful in the works of the Kingdom. She can say as did St. Paul, 'I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.'"

CASHIER OF SIEGEL BANK TESTIFIES AT SIEGEL TRIAL

Tells of Large Sums of Money Being Taken From the Bank Just Before Crash of the Stores and its Failure.

Geneseo, N. Y., Nov. 16.—The methods by which large sums of money were taken from the Siegel private bank just prior to its failure in connection with the crash of the Siegel stores corporation were told by Frank L. Champion, former cashier of the bank, at the continuation of the trial here today of Henry Siegel on a grand larceny charge. A few days before the failure Mr. Champion testified, Henry Vogel, Siegel's dead partner, gave him an envelope containing about $4,000,000 worth (par value) of shares in the Siegel stores corporation and the H. Siegel company of Boston, as security for loans. The stock, he said, he knew to be practically worthless.

On cross examination, Mr. Champion said he was receiving $50 a week from the state.

Another important witness was Robert G. McMeekin, secretary-treasurer of the Siegel stores corporation.

He testified in regard to the formation of the various Siegel-Vogel enterprises. On one occasion Mr. McMeekin said, Mr. Siegel asked him to find some country which did not have an extradition treaty with the United States.

TO NAME COMMITTEE TO ARRANGE FOR MUNICIPAL CHRISTMAS TREE

Meeting of Representatives of Various Organizations is Held at Chamber of Commerce Headquarters Monday.

At a meeting of representatives of various organizations of the city, held at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters Monday afternoon, the chairman was instructed to name a committee to arrange for a municipal Christmas tree for Jacksonville. This committee is to appoint whatever sub-committees are necessary to bring the project to a successful termination.

Most of the churches of the city, the Associated Charities, Anti-Tuberculosis society, city administration, Salvation Army, Woman's Civic League and the Woman's club were among the organizations represented at the meeting and a lengthy discussion of the matter was had. Nearly everyone present gave an opinion and told of what had been done in other cities along this line. Commissioner Knollenberg, who represented the city administration, said that the city would furnish a team to haul the tree and also provide lamps and electric current necessary to light it.

It is the intention to have a large tree, lighted with different colored lamps, erected at a convenient place and to give a program appropriate to Christmas time, such as the singing of Christmas carols, etc.; and to every child attending a gift of candy or oranges. The intention is to have the tree for everyone in the city, to make it a community affair.

Another matter that received considerable discussion at the meeting was that of giving during Christmas time. It was the opinion of all present that some system should be devised whereby a list of needy and deserving persons could be had, and names furnished to those wishing to give, so that all would be provided for as far as possible. It was made clear in the discussion that this was not meant to interfere with organizations or individuals wishing to give at Christmas time.

Secretary Fritchey of the Chamber of Commerce, who acted as chairman at the meeting, expects to name the committee for the Christmas tree soon, after which a meeting will be held when the details of the plan will be worked out.

CATTLE FEEDING

Woods' Improved Grain Softener

Pat. Applied for 100 bu. size.

This wonderful device for softening grain, or cooking it will enable you to feed cattle without hogs following them, as the cattle digest all they eat when made digestible. If you have hogs you can feed them the soup of the corn, if not give it to your calves, or cattle.

I find everything on the place like this much even the chickens do well on it, and they lay more eggs if fed on hot mush, with a little meat scraps mixed in it.

We can make a separate coil of pipe and place inside the furnace to heat the drinking water, without any trouble. This can be put to one side or used as a part of the grate where the hot coals lay on it all the time. This mush is the very thing to fatten poor horses on. It equals feeding green corn to them and is also great for dairy cows, makes them produce 1-4 more milk.

Yours for producing more beef and pork.

WAITING OPPORTUNITY TO RISE UPON GERMANS

BELGIANS PASSIVELY AND SILENTLY BIDE THEIR TIME.

Emotions of the People are Kept Fresh by Sights of Burned and Ruined Villages and Towns and by Innumerable Stories of German Atrocities—News from the War Zone.

Paris, Nov. 17.—The Belgian people are waiting passively, I might say sullenly, for an opportunity to rise upon the Germans," said Edward A. Filene of Boston, today, on completing a tour of twenty days in Belgium.

"The Belgians are overpowered but not conquered," he continued. "One of their foremost scholars, who ordinarily is a mild and benevolent man—I will not mention his name to avoid embarrassing him—said: 'History may give the Germans the victory in Belgium but never honor.'

"All amusements are being given up. The public uses its Sundays and holidays in visiting the burned and ruined towns and villages which mark the German advance. The emotions of the people are kept fresh by these sights and by the constant passing from man to man of innumerable stories of German atrocities."

"For instance Brussels has no postal delivery," Mr. Filene continued, "because the letter carriers refuse to work for the Germans, who have taken over the postoffice and are selling stamps with 'Belgium' printed upon them. There are some differences of opinion among the Belgians as to the wisdom of refusing labor. There are no differences as to their willingness to make any sacrifice for their country but with starvation threatening the larger part of the population, some Belgians feel as they look at their women and children that no further sacrifice in this direction ought to be made."

"The spirit of the people is shown by what the wife of one of the highest Belgian officials said to me. She remained in Brussels with her six children after her husband's duty had obliged him to depart with the government. 'Yes we intended to take our children to England for safety,' she said, 'but when we remembered that they might hold important positions in our country and perhaps be influential in future leadership, we did not want them to come to this work ignorant of what our people have undergone and suffered during this terrible war. They would not have known, because they would have spent all the period of the war in pleasant living in England. When we thought of this we felt with aching hearts that we owed to them and their country to keep them here although we knew and know now that there is great danger.'

"This woman's palace is occupied by Germans, but she refused to leave with her children and is now living in some of the rooms of her home."

Will Welcome American Relief.
Washington, Nov. 17.—Germany will welcome any assistance by Americans in relieving the Belgians, according to an announcement by Secretary Bryan after a conference today with Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador here. Mr. Bryan issued the following statement which was delivered to him by the ambassador:

"The German government is doing everything possible to help the suffering population of Belgium and will welcome any assistance given by Americans."

Relief work of the Belgians will continue entirely through private channels according to President Wilson's explanation to callers today. He said he had rejected the idea of appointing an official relief commission. Relief work done officially, it is understood would not be regarded as a neutral act. Individuals, however, are perfectly free to aid the Belgians or any of the other combatants and it is now expected that the various organizations, such as the Rockefeller Foundation and others interested will of their own accord select a central committee to prevent duplication of effort and to systemize relief plans.

French Communication.
Paris, Nov. 17.—The following official communication was issued tonight:

"According to the latest advices the enemy has renewed his attacks to the east and to the south of Ypres but they have not altered the situation which remains satisfactory. During the last two days we have registered progress, more or less pronounced, everywhere we have attacked, at Hetsen, on the Yser, between Armentieres and Arras, in the region of Valley, in the Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse."

All Resolution Passed.
London, Nov. 17.—All the resolutions covering (David Lloyd George's proposal for new taxation were passed this evening in the house of commons.

Austrians Threaten Belgrade.

million dollars of the new British war loan of $1,125,000,000, already has been taken by one firm. It was announced today in the house of commons by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer.

Announce Servians Capture.
Washington, Nov. 17.—Capture of 8,000 Servians by the Austrian army during the occupation of Valjevo was announced today in official dispatches reaching the Austria-Hungarian embassy here. The wireless from the foreign office in Vienna duplicate the war office statement concerning the victories in Fervia and announced further hostilities in the Northern Theatre of war. The despatch says in part:

"Our troops reached Kolumba, occupied Valjevo and Obrenovac in nine days. Eight thousand Servians were taken prisoners, much material of war, including 42 cannon and 31 machine guns were captured. In the northern part fighting has begun."

Official Russian Report.
Petrograd, Nov. 17.—An official communication issued by the Russian General Headquarters today says:

"In East Prussia the enemy is falling back along the whole front between Gumbinnen and Angerburg, while continuing to hold the passages in the Masurian Lakes."

"On the front between the Vistula and Warta Rivers (in Russian Poland) the fighting continues, taking the character of a great battle."

"There are important German forces in Galicia. We have reached the Austrian rear guards in the region of Dukla and the passage of Ujok."

Herrick to Leave Nov. 28th.
Washington, Nov. 17.—Ambassador Herrick will say good bye to Paris and the war zones on November 28th, returning to the United States. His successor, former Representative William G. Sharp, will present his credentials to President Poincare on December 1st.

This arrangement it is understood, was made by Messrs. Herrick and Sharp, the time for the transfer being left to their mutual convenience. It is expected that Mr. Herrick will come to Washington for a conference with President Wilson about conditions abroad.

Minister Henry Van Dyke, who already has left Holland, is the only other American diplomat returning from Europe at this time. Mr. Van Dyke asked for leave on account of his health and although there have been reports from Holland that he has a special peace mission, he did not so state in his dispatches to the state department.

Body Embarked for England.
Boulogne, via London, Nov. 17.—A touching ceremony was enacted this afternoon when the body of Field Marshall Lord Roberts was embarked for England. The body arrived in Boulogne from army headquarters at the front in a motor ambulance, accompanied by staff officers. It was carried aboard the steamer by men of the army service corps through lines of British troops and sailors. On the coffin rested the field marshal's service cap and sword and a wreath of laurel.

The pall bearers were General Wilson, two French generals and other officers. All the French and British officers present joined in the procession.

Arriving at the landing stage the coffin was placed on a catafalque, covered with French and British flags past which large numbers of soldiers and sailors marched.

Numerous floral tokens were sent to the steamer from the French and British army staffs, officials of municipalities and the military hospitals.

Petrograd Communication.
Petrograd, Russia, Nov. 17.—via Paris.—An official communication issued from the headquarters of the Russian army of the Caucasus and made public here today says:

"The march of our advance guards in the direction of Erzerum is ended. This march was not in consequence of any attack but the part of a plan which had been laid out for our advance guards. In this same direction one of our columns attacked part of the left wing of the Turks, which they threw back."

Another of our columns engaged in a combat near Buzveran, which was to our advantage.

"The movement of the Ottoman troops in the Oltychad Valley is reported. Four Kurd regiments which were concentrated near Dajar have been dispersed by our cavalry. Our troops operating beyond the ridge of Klytheaduk and near Dhamour inflicted a complete defeat on the Ottoman forces and numerous bands of Kurds. Our advance guards dislodged the Kurds from the village of Tchabanagak, south of the ridge of Tapaniz. At Azes-beldin there is no change."

"Upon the Black Sea Littoral an attempted offensive movement of the Turks against our posts near Linnun failed completely. Attacked behind and on the flank by our warships, the Turks sustained serious losses. Their reserves have been annihilated."

EXPENSIVE CAMPAIGN AGAINST EPIDEMIC

APPROXIMATELY $750,000 SPENT AGAINST CATTLE DISEASE.

Of Total Amount Spent in Campaign Against Foot and Mouth Disease, the Federal Government has Expended $400,000—Emergency Appropriation to be Asked of Congress.

Washington, Nov. 17.—To date the federal and state governments have spent approximately $750,000 in the campaign against the livestock foot and mouth disease epidemic. Of this about $400,000 has been borne by the federal government almost exhausting the available funds of the department of agriculture. An emergency appropriation of probably $200,000 will be asked of congress when it meets to complete the work of stamping out the disease.

Experts of the department estimate that about $700,000 alone has been spent for slaughtering condemned cattle, one-half of which is borne by the federal and the other half by the state governments. The last outbreak of the disease—that of 1908—cost the federal government alone $300,000. The infected states then included Pennsylvania, New York, Michigan and Maryland.

On reports from field inspectors that outbreak of the disease has occurred in the state of Washington and in the District of Columbia, department officials prepared today to place the affected areas under quarantine. Action was withheld, however, pending receipt of more definite information.

BENZOATE STILL IN USE.

Inquiry Indicates This Chemical Still Has Places as a Preservative.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The fact that benzoate of soda is still in use as a preservative by the canning industries has been developed by inquiries to the government's bureau of chemistry since the beginning of the European war. Although limited quantities of benzoate may be used, if stamped upon the label, the government's investigation has caused so much controversy that most food manufacturers were thought to have abandoned its use by this time.

The government is not encouraging the use of this chemical, or any other preservative which has met the opposition of so many pure food experts. The bureau, therefore, answers most of the inquiries by stating that the government is not in the business of telling manufacturers what kind of artificial preservatives they should use. It is the opinion of Dr. Carl L. Alsberg, chief chemist of the bureau, that by the proper preparation of food most products may be preserved without the use of benzoate or any other chemical.

It was during Dr. Wiley's administration of the bureau that the fight against benzoate was waged. The Rensen board took a stand in defense of the chemical, but public opinion was manifested so strongly against its use that practical canners of the better class abandoned benzoate, or were believed to have done so.

Now the high cost of the chemical has brought out the fact that benzoate is actually in demand in large quantities, and the agitation as to just how harmful it is, if it is harmful at all, may be resumed.

WILL GIVE RECITAL.

Announcement has been made of a piano recital by Prof. Edmund Munger of the Illinois Conservatory of Music, to be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 24, at Northminster church.

Rheumatism

Just put a few drops of Sloan's on the painful spot and the pain stops. It is really wonderful how quickly Sloan's acts. No need to rub it in—laid on lightly it penetrates to the bone and brings relief at once. Kills rheumatic pain instantly.

Mr. James E. Alexander, of North Harpwell, Me., writes: "Many strains in my back and hips brought on rheumatism in the sciatic nerve. I had it so bad one night when sitting in my chair, that I had to jump on my feet to get relief. I at once applied your Liniment to the affected part and in less than ten minutes it was perfectly easy. I think it is the best of all Liniments I have ever used."

Sure Cures

Man might his malady endure, with grit, till death shall end it, but that each neighbor has a cure, and comes to recommend it. I have, and neighbors to my cottage chase, and tell me how to heal it. Says Old Bill Wax, "Relief I bring—just take and rub this salve in, for it will cure up anything from leprosy to spavin." Old Jim Simpson comes and brings a jug of grease, and makes a plaster, and says, "Just put this on your mug and you'll avert disaster." To tell me I should steam my head folks seek my lowly dwelling; one says a poultice made of bread will soon reduce the swelling; one has a cake of dark green soap possessing wondrous virtue; one brings a jar of noxious dope and says, "It will not hurt you." And they regard me angry-eyed, their sympathy is ended, when I admit I have upon me with a wealth of words and call me grudging. The gods protect us, one and all, when we are sad and ailing, from tender-hearted folks who call with cure-alls unavailing!

ECONOMY DEMANDS MONOPOLY METHODS

DEMANDS ELIMINATION OF ALL COMPETITION.

President of National Association of Railway Commissioners Asks if a Private Transportation Monopoly is Intolerable, Should Not a Necessary Monopoly Be Publicly Owned.

Washington, Nov. 17.—"Economy demands the elimination of competition between public service enterprises; and by force of this economic condition a monopoly in transportation is necessary. If a private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable, should not a necessary monopoly be publicly owned?"

This was the keynote question of the address of Laurence B. Finn of Kentucky, president of the National association of railway commissioners, delivered today at the opening of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the association. The president's advanced stand attracted much attention among 200 state railway commissioners present and probably will be the subject of formal discussion later.

"The surest way to destroy community is to guarantee private property security from aggression," said Mr. Finn. "The surest way to make effective this guarantee is to prevent private ownership or control of necessary monopolies. If the protecting hand of this nation is necessary to husband the prodigious resources of nature's bounteous gifts to man in the icy lands of Alaska, to prevent despoliation at the hands of privately owned transportation companies why is it not necessary to protect the meager product of man's labor from the self-same fate in other parts of our own fair land?"

The feature of the afternoon session was a report by Martin S.
Decker of the New York Public Service Commission on express service and express rates. It showed that during the last fiscal year the revenues of the express companies had fallen off approximately $10, 000,000 and that the net income of the express operations was substantially negligible.

UNITED STATES CRUISERS OFF FOREIGN SHORES

Tennessee Reaches Youria, Gulf of Smyrna—North Carolina at Beirut.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The Armored Cruiser Tennessee has arrived at Youria in the Gulf of Smyrna,
Asia Minor, and the Cruiser North Carolina is at Beirut, according to advice to the navy department today. No mention was made in official telegrams of any measures of protection for British, French or Russian subjects, as was reported.

It is believed here that the reports originated from the fact that since American consular officers have taken charge of British and French interests in Turkey the presence of American vessels near the consulates might have had the mortal effect of strengthening the efforts of the American consuls to secure protection for foreign subjects in their charge.

CATTLE FEEDING

In order to make money feeding cattle, they must be kept as quiet and in a clean close place, and so they can lay down in a clean place. I have tried feeding on the grass and in dry lots. I find they do much better in lots, when they will eat and lay down. So I think it will pay us to tie steers up like horses and water and feed them the same as they do at the distilleries, where they are fed in one stall for 6 months at a time, and do well.

So why can't we feed our cattle the same way, and haul our manure out as fast as it accumulates, and put it on our poorest land;
then we will get the benefit of it at once.

It will be an easy matter to arrange a double row of cattle, and have our water tank on truck wheels to run between the cattle, and another feed box or wagon bed on truck wheels to run between them where we can feed ensilage, crushed corn or cob meal mush or any kind of feed we think best. In winter we could bale some old wheat straw, and pick it behind the cattle against the north wall which will answer as a wind break, in cold weather, and be used as bedding, when needed.

This shed could be made with windows on the south side, to let the sun shine on them in cold weather, or tack some old canvass over the windows in hot weather to keep the sun off.

Our land has become so valuable that we must not tramp the life out of it by letting our cattle run over the land we cultivate, so in this way, we can haul our manure out in dry weather on it, in place of feeding in some hilly pasture and losing all this fertility, which will pay all the expenses of feeding, if put on the land we cultivate.

Another good way is to sow say 20 acres in rape and rye, and hog this down early, then feed the rest of the product of our land to cattle and hogs on this 20 acres, and have it all fed out before cold weather sets in.

I have found the best cattle feed to be crushed corn, cob and all then cooked until 20 bu. makes 50 bu. in bulk. Give the cattle all they will clean up in 30 minutes. Then give each steer 5 lbs. of straw or clover hay. They will make a good gain on this feed. Give the hogs the slop drawn off the corn. If you have no hogs stir some bran in this slop, and feed it to the cattle.

Yours for producing more beef and pork.

CHARLES WOOD.

CRIMINAL CASES WILL BE HEARD NEXT WEEK

Docket Was Set Tuesday and Attoneys Appointed to Defend—Franklin Trespass Case is Now Trial.

In the circuit court Tuesday morning Judge Creighton called the criminal docket to set cases for hearing the week beginning Nov. 23.
Various prisoners who are to be tried next week were brought to the court room by Sheriff Rogers and his deputies and in practically all cases made it known that they were unable to secure attorneys on their own account and the court appointed lawyers to defend.

In the case of Frank Watson and Howard Smith, who are charged with burglary and larceny, John M.
Butler was appointed to defend.
These men are charged with being implicated with the burglarizing of a store at Litchfield. Hugh B.
Green was appointed by the court to defend Joseph Bridges, alias Joseph Jackson, who has three indictments pending against him, one for assault with intent to commit murder, another for arson, and a third for attempt to commit arson. Bridges is the man who was arrested at Waverly as he was alleged to have attempted to kill his landlady with robbery as a possible motive.

Charles Jackson and Jesse Harris are to be tried for burglary and larceny and Paul P. Thompson was assigned to defend them. The particular charge against them is that of stealing chickens. F. L. Gregory was named to defend Amos Sutton, who is charged with stealing hogs belonging to William Nunes. Robert Wilson is also charged with burglary and larceny and George L.
Merrill was assigned to defend him.

John German, one of those against whom an indictment was found by the grand jury, was not in court but the sheriff stated that he had the assurance that Mr. German would appear when his case was called. He is charged with malicious mischief, based on the allegation that he used poisoned corn to kill some of his neighbor's chickens. It developed that J. M. Butler has been retained to defend Fred Aumans, charged with an attempt to kill J. B. Beckman.

The morning session of court was occupied in the further hearing of the case of Cook & Preston vs. T. E.
Laurie, and at the conclusion of the testimony, and following the court's instructions, the jury brought in a verdict fixing damages for the plaintiff in the sum of $295.83.

The case of Frank S. Tribble vs.
Isom Burnett for trespass is now on trial. Both parties to the suit live in the Franklin neighborhood and the trouble which forms the basis of the action occurred there on the night of the last Fourth of July.
According to the story Mr. Tribble was sitting in a buggy in front of the Olinger store and remonstrated with some boys who were shooting fire crackers. Following the argument he had with young Burnett, who was one of the boys in the group, and a son of Isom Burnett, the boy's father, it is alleged, approached the vehicle in which Tribble was seated and struck him two or three times with a piece of pine board. Tribble, it is alleged, had a knife in one hand at the time and a baggy whip in the other.

Tribble subsequently went to Dr.
Metcalf and had the bruise or wound on his arm dressed, and this incident furnishes the basis of the present action, which is for $2,000.
Kirby, Wilson & Brockhouse are representing the complainant and G.
L. Merrill and W. N. Hairgrove the defendant.

Among the witnesses who have been summoned in the case are Gus Seymour, Dr. Metcalf, W. M. Alford, Henry Dahlman, Miss Maggie Scott,
Matthew Skeens, Lloyd Violett, W.
R. Hills, Hurley Jones, Miss Bertha
Sears and Elmer Roberts. The jurors who are hearing the case are the following: E. F. Hiassey, J. W.
Martin, Joe Gutcher, C. M. Skiz-ner, Isaac Herbert, Chas. Murphy, Thomas Hanning, John Swain, Wm.
Mortimer, Jas. Holt, F. L. Smith

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

In almost every settled community are women who have enjoyed the blessing of this famous remedial and helpful embrocation. Their daughters have grown up to learn of its splendid assistance.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed through in ease and comfort.

Anything that adds so much comfort must be counted as a blessing indeed. In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts.

It has been prepared in our laboratory for over four years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradford Regulator Co., 509 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

Do not accept a substitute. What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Makes it Dull, Brittle, Lifeless, and Causes it To Fall Out.

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

We admire a manly man. Their many friends are wishing for the mother and babe the best of success. Mr. and Mrs. Rexroat have many dear friends in this vicinity; they have been married six years; this is their first child, hence the enthusiasm.

The revival at the Baptist church has been attended. Brother Johnson, the state evangelist of that church and brother Dickmon, have been giving our people some of the straightest preaching they ever heard and all who hear, are well pleased and come again to hear more. If you have not been attending these meetings, you have lost much for all the sermons have been intellectual, spiritual and uplifting. The meetings will continue this week and perhaps longer. Come out and hear a good man preach a good sermon from a good text. We received a kind invitation from Mrs. Lula Dawson to attend the morning service. Very sorry circumstances were such that we could not go.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. society met in regular session on Wednesday afternoon at the commodious home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Baner in Arcadia with Mrs. Flora Thompson and Mrs. Irene Braner, hostesses.

Our worthy president, Mrs. J. M. Litter was invited to a turkey dinner in Jacksonville on this day, so she gave the meeting over to Mrs. M. O. Petefish who conducted the business part in good style. The meeting was well attended, about forty persons being in attendance. A good offering was taken after which came the feast.

We have all heard the old adage "truth is stranger than fiction" and so it is. Last April this society met at "Golden Grove", the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Petefish and in the way of entertainment they held a "ladies exchange". Every lady brought an article; they sat in a circle and passed the articles from one to the next, for ten times then each one kept that which was in her hands for her own. Mrs. Thompson brought a fresh goose egg, which went the rounds ten times, and in no very gentle manner either. This was left in the hands of Mrs. Earl Underbrink and she gave it to her little daughter, Mildred, a lot of five years. Mildred, a lot of five years, is a very careful and frugal child, so she began looking for a way to hatch that egg. She sent it down to Mrs. Newton Braner, who placed it in a warm nest under a mother goose and it hatched all right into a pretty little gosling and grew into a big fat goose. On Wednesday at the "Aid Meeting" this goose was served as refreshments, with sage dressing, cranberry sauce, pickles, coffee, scalloped oysters, fried snails, coffee and candy. All who partook of this feast pronounced it the best ever. Our president, Mrs. J. M. Litter, when she heard of this splendid goose dinner, had the blues, because she missed it. Just before dissecting the deceased, Mrs. Katy Petefish McDonald read this obituary: "This goose egg originated as did all other goose eggs. The mother goose cuddled it under her wings and said: 'Some day you will be a wonderful bird.' This egg was given by a little girl in Litterberry, who said, 'I know what I'll do with you; I'll take you to a Ladies exchange.' It was done and here it is nicely cooked and served to the society. We think it will taste as good as it looks; try it and see."

Those present from Jacksonville were Mrs. Verdie and Maggie Thompson and Mrs. Hattie Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Coffman of 729 North Main street, Jacksonville, took dinner at Sunshine Cottage Sunday.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which every one should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF HAIR STOPS FALLING

Girls! Try This! Makes Your Hair Thick, Glossy, Fluffy, Beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

INDIANAPOLIS BUSINESS MEN CONDEMN METHODS OF PATRIOTS

Prominent Non-Catholics Ask All Citizens to Join With Them in Denouncing Fake K. C. Oath

Statement of Facts—The True Oath and the Bogus—Congressional Record Quoted—Philadelphia Trial—Admission of the Menace and the Result—Other Court Proceedings

(Printed by request of Jacksonville Council 868, Knights of Columbus. The article pertains to bogus oath distributed in Morgan county and throughout the state.)

We the undersigned citizens of Indianapolis, Indiana, beg to make public the following statement of facts, the truth of which is established by thorough investigation regarding the circulation in Indianapolis and Indiana of a "fake oath" as being the true fourth degree oath of the Knights of Columbus.

It will be unnecessary to reproduce the fake oath here on account of its vile character. Ordinarily charges of such vile nature should go unnoticed, but good citizens of all creeds owe it to themselves to pillory before the public those circulating this literature as un-American.

The true oath of the fourth degree members of the Knights of Columbus, as hereinafter shown in the court proceedings, is as follows:

"I swear to support the Constitution of the United States.

"I pledge myself, as a Catholic citizen and Knight of Columbus, to enlighten myself fully upon my duties as a citizen and to conscientiously perform such duties entirely in the interest of my country and regardless of all consequences. I pledge myself to do all in my power to preserve the integrity and purity of the ballot and to promote reverence and respect for law and order. I promise to practice my religion openly and consistently, but without ostentation and to so conduct myself in public affairs and in the exercise of public virtue to reflect nothing but credit upon our Holy Church to the end that she may flourish and our country prosper to the greater honor and glory of God."

Appended to the "fake oath" which is being circulated anonymously is this notation:

"Copied from the Congressional Record, Washington, D. C., Vol. 49, Pt. 4, Feb. 15, 1913, P. 3216."

By referring to the Congressional Record quoted it will be found that this "fake oath" is filed as an exhibit by Eugene C. Bonniwell, of Pennsylvania, in his charge against Thomas S. Butler, before the committee on elections No. 1, in Congress, growing out of an election contest. Mr. Bonniwell, the contestant, in his protest, printed in the Congressional Record, says:

"Messengers in the employ of supporters of Thomas S. Butler, traveled the district having in their possession and circulating a blasphemous and infamous libel, copy of which is hereto attached, pretended to be an oath of the Knights of Columbus, of which body the contestant is a member. So revolting are the terms of this document and so nauseating its pledges that the injury it did, not merely to the contestant, but also to the Knights of Columbus and to Catholics in general, can hardly be measured in terms."

Copied from Congressional Record, Washington, D. C., Vol. 49, Pt. 4, Feb. 15, 1913, P. 3216.

At the trial reputable citizens gave evidence that the "fake oath" was a vile fake and that the obligation above set out is the true obligation of the Knights of Columbus.

The defendants at the trial made no attempt to establish the authenticity of the "fake oath," but threw themselves on the mercy of the court and tried to show that there was no intentional libel on Mr. Lawless.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, which was read by the foreman, Rev. Thomas Billing, and the court imposed a jail sentence of thirty days.

In the Philadelphia case two men, Megonegal and Stage, were charged jointly with conspiracy to defame several members of the Knights of Columbus by causing the "fake oath" to be circulated.

At the hearing it appeared that the "fake oath" had been bought in bulk from the Menace in the beginning, but afterwards Megonegal had done the printing on his own account.

The Menace was called upon by counsel for these two men to give them some assistance, and it replied in a letter, dated March 5, 1913, and addressed to Leroy N. King, attorney for the defendants:

"We do not have any evidence that the oath is the one which is taken by the Knights of Columbus. We feel sure that it would be folly for you to base your defense on the authenticity of this document."

The case came on to trial at the quarter-sessions court in Philadelphia on January 29, 1914, before Robert W. Wilson. The district attorney was Joseph Taulman, who was assisted by Attorneys Owen J. Roberts and Joseph P. Gaffney. The defendants in addition to Mr. King had Peter F. MacLaren. Evidence was introduced that the "fake oath" was utterly false, and that no Knight of Columbus ever took it. The true oath was introduced in evidence.

Megonegal pleaded guilty and Stage pleaded nolle. Whereupon, at the request of the plaintiffs, the sentence was suspended.

Knowing that the "fake oath" is false, we hold that all good citizens will join in denouncing its circulation in Marion county and in Indiana to the end that the people of all creeds may dwell in peace and harmony as becomes the highest ideals of true and patriotic American citizenship.

Mr. Butler, in his defense, as printed in the Congressional Record, says:

"I appreciate with alarm the use of such a document in a political campaign, or at any other time. I did not believe in its truthfulness, and so stated my judgment concerning it on November 4th, 1912, as soon as complaint was made to me of its general circulation. Inasmuch as I did not wish to give this document which I judged to be spurious, any notoriety whatsoever, I refrained from its public condemnation until the time when a general complaint was made to me and I thought it my duty to publicly condemn it."

Copied from Congressional Record Washington, D. C., Vol. 49, Pt. 4, Feb. 15, 1913, P. 3210.

The Congressional Committee, to which the matter was referred, reported in part as follows:

"The committee cannot condemn too strongly the publication of the false and libelous article referred to in the paper of Mr. Bonniwell and which was the spurious Knights of Columbus Oath a copy of which is appended to the paper."

Copied from Congressional Record Washington, D. C., Vol. 49, Pt. 4, Feb. 15, 1913, P. 3221.

This shows that the "fake oath" is a FAKE, and it explains how it got into the Congressional Record.

In addition to the reference made in the Congressional Record showing up this "fake oath," its false and malicious character was shown in two court proceedings, one in Waterville, Minn., tried on July 23, 1914, and one in Philadelphia, Pa., tried on January 30, 1914.

The Waterville case was a criminal libel suit brought by E. M. Lawless, the editor of the Waterville Sentinel, against A. M. Morrison and C. E. Morrison, father and son, editors and publishers of the Mankato Morning Journal, of Mankato, Minn.

The libel consisted in the charging of Lawless with having taken the "fake" Knights of Columbus "oath," which is the same "fake oath" so largely circulated in Marion county.

The trial was presided over by Judge George J. Dressel. The district attorney who prosecuted the case was Francis J. Hanzie, of Montgomery, prosecuting attorney for Lesueur county, who was assisted by Attorney Thomas Hessian, of Lesueur. The defendants were represented by Owen Morris, of St. Paul.

A jury was selected, and the Rev. Thomas Billing, the resident Methodist minister of Waterville, was chosen on the jury.

MARKET LETTERS

Hogs Open 40c Higher; Close 25 to 30c Lower.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—After a cessation of trade here for the past week the hog market opened today with 17,000 estimated half of which were direct to the packers from other points. However, the market opened 40c higher, with the small packers and speculators the principal buyers, but this was a false start, as when the big packers got ready to make their purchases they bought their hogs fully 25 to 30c lower than the opening. As a matter of fact, it was impossible to get $8.00 at the close for the best. The top was impossible to get $8.00 at the close for the best. The top was $8.25 early; the best shipping grades sold from $8.00 to $8.15 and the mixed hogs from $7.75 to $8.00. On the close it was a $7.50 to $7.15 market, with top of $7.90.

A rumor is about that the embargo has been removed from the state of Wisconsin, and from all indications this is very liable to bring us fairly good receipts of hogs from now on. It must be remembered that up to this date there is no stock being shipped out from here, but we look to see a change in this situation in the near future. We do not look for much change in values tomorrow from the closing quotations today.

Cattle Market Letter.

Estimates as to what today's runs would be were at wide variance. Some predicted extremely light and others moderately liberal supplies. It was a pretty safe assumption however, that with so much Chicago territory restricted from shipping by various state regulations, that we would have a light run. Supplies were estimated at 7,000 cattle, 17,000 hogs and 18,000 sheep. All stock as it reached the chutes had to undergo federal inspection and not a hoof came into the Yards before 6:30. Buyers took hold of the cattle as they arrived, paying prices that looked 10 to 15c higher than last quotations; in fact in some cases values were 25c higher.

The extreme top was $10.75 which we secured for a load of 1,510-lb steers from Fremont & Co., Glenwood, Mo.

The hog market had an early spurt of practically 40c, as high as $8.25 being paid; from this there was a sudden break of at least 25c.

Prime lambs sold during the early part of the day at $9.00, but the market receded from that figure; in fact all of the markets had a lower tendency during the latter hours.

What the future is going to bring forth is, of course, a matter of considerable concern and speculation. Iowa, Wisconsin and other sections are clamoring for release and as soon as the bars are let down it will mean a rush to get in first, and ship nothing not strictly fat as everything received here must be sold for slaughter here. The meat trades are not in condition to stand any liberal supplies. We feel confident that when conditions are back to normal we will have a generally good outlet and we advise, therefore, holding back and fattening anything of desirable quality that needs it.

Chicago Livestock Market.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Oliver S. Green with Walter Bros., U. S. Yards, Chicago reports the estimated receipts for Monday, Nov. 16th, 1914:

Cattle—7,500.
Hogs—18,000.
Sheep—22,000.

The supply of cattle here was light and also short runs at the other principal markets. Considering the "abnormal" conditions the re-opening session was more formidable for the selling interest and prices early on steers were strong.

$8.10 to $8.15 higher and a good call for good yearlings, handy and strong weights. Choice 18 head averaging 1510 made $10.75 and we sold 49 921 lb. yearlings at $10.75. But few western rangers arrived and they sold at satisfactory prices. Later the market closed low and the early advance was lost. Early butcher stuff was active and heifers 25 to 40c higher. Cows mostly 15 to 25c up. Canners 10 to 25c advance. But few "thin steers" came and no change reported. The market was about all lost later in the day. Bulls 25c higher. Calves unevenly higher.

KNOW

YOU ARE EATING

United States inspectors employed by the government inspect every animal that is brought to our pens, both before and after being killed. Every piece of meat that leaves our house has this stamp on it,

"U. S. Inspected and Passed

which means that it has been inspected and found to be free from disease.

Isn't it worth a good deal to you to know that when you buy meat with the government inspector's label on it, that it is absolutely wholesome and healthy in every respect?

In buying meat always demand this label and you will always get the best.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

ACTIVE BUYING RALLIES WHEAT
IN THE LAST HOUR OF TRADING

Purchases are supposed to be for Eastern Exporters—Steadiness rules at the Close.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Active buying, supposed to be largely for eastern exporters, rallied the wheat market today in the last hour notwithstanding that previously the bears had control of prices most of the time owing to the piling up of stocks.
Steadiness ruled at the close, which was 1/4c to 1/2c above last night.
Corn finished unchanged to a sixteenth off, oats at a shade advance and provisions down 15 to 42c.

Supposed difficulty in obtaining ocean vessel charters made the enlarged domestic supply of wheat look formidable until the sea-board apparently began to take the initiative in earnest on the bull side. Besides the alleged inadequacy of the available freight carrying facilities on the Atlantic, assertions that the wheat movement to tide water was largely blocked at Buffalo had forced an additional restraint on the bulls. On the other hand, the fact that at the same time Europe was complaining of world shipments much under requirements seemed to cut no figure for a while but attracted eager attention when the rally got fairly under way.

Corn rallied with wheat. During the greater part of the session, however, the market was weak owing to clear cold weather that was ideal for handling new corn. Oats were swayed mainly by the action of other cereals. Country offerings appeared small and shipping demand fairly active.

WILL ATTEMPT TO BREAK

WILL OF MRS. CARROLL

Nephews and Nieces Have Filed Bill
Alleging She Was of Unsound Mind When Document was Drawn.

A bill was filed in the circuit court Tuesday by Michael Morrissey and others wherein they ask to set aside the will of the late Mrs. Catherine Carroll. Mr. Morrissey and the other complainants are represented by Bellatti, Bellatti & Morfarty, and the bill is directed against Michael White and others. The complainants maintain that when the will was executed on the sixth day of August, 1909, and the codicil September 28, 1914, that the testator was not of sound mind and memory and that on the contrary she was in her dotage and the condition of her mind and memory was so impaired as to render her wholly incapable of making any just and proper distribution of her estate. It is charged that the principal legatees of the alleged will and codicil, used undue influence to induce Mrs. Carroll to execute the instruments. The complainants mentioned in the bill are Michael Morrissey, William Leary, John Leary, Michael Leary, Edmund Leary, Mary Farrell, Hannah White, Catherine Ryan, Alice Wentworth, Mary Couhig, Florence Couhig, Charles Couhig, John Couhig, Catherine Couhig, Mary Meeghan, Delia Philbrick and William Morrissey. The instrument is directed against the following defendants: Michael White, Mary White, the Church of Our Savior, and Michael White as executor of the will of Mrs. Carroll.

In her original will Mrs. Carroll bequeathed household effects, etc., to Mary White, $50 to the Church of Our Savior and $200 to Michael White as trustee, the interest thereon to be used in caring for the cemetery lot. A section of the will stated that the testator had conveyed a certain lot in Jacksonville to Nora M. White and it was directed that subsequent to the death of Nora White this property was to descend to her daughter, May White. It was provided also that the north half of lot 136 in the original plat of the town of Jacksonville should also become the property of Nora White. Another section provided that all the rest of the property not specifically devised should be sold and the proceeds divided among nieces and nephews who are the complainants in the bill filed to break the will. Michael White was named as executor in the will. In the codicil to the will, which was made Sept. 28, 1914, $1,000 was bequeathed to Mary White.

WOMEN OF THE WEEK.

Prescott, Ariz., Nov. 16.—Congratulations are flowing in to Mrs. Frances Muffa, who was elected Nov. 3 to be the first woman state senator in Arizona. She led the entire Democratic ticket, and won by 609 votes.
Washington Women. Washington, Nov. 16.—Mrs. George T. Marye, the wife of the new ambassador to Russia, accompanied her husband to Petrograd. She took with her the handsome furs which she owns and they ought to compare well with Russian furs. Additions to society here will include Mrs. James Wadsworth Jr., wife of the new New York senator. She has always been popular here, ever since, as Miss Alice Hay, daughter of the late Secretary of State, she shared honors with her elder sister, Miss Helen Hay, now Mrs. Payne Whitney. Miss Helen Cannon is expected to accompany her illustrious father from Illinois, and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth will undoubtedly be pleased to rejoin the official circle with her husband, who comes again to Congress.
Noted Woman Explorer Here. Boston, Nov. 16.—Mrs. M. French-

Sheldon, a former African explorer and a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, has reached America, and will organize an endless chain to raise funds for the Belgians. She will be widely entertained, for she is one of the world's most able women, having translated fifty books, and made extensive explorations, besides training herself as an author, doctor and traveler.

Miss Burleson Urges Cotton Christmas Gifts. Washington, Nov. 16.—Miss Lucy Kyle Burleson, second daughter of the Postmaster-General and Mrs. Burleson, has started a unique movement to push the sale of cotton through Christmas shopping. She is urging the women of the country to buy all the cotton goods possible, and will give talks before clubs to spread the idea.

Ladies' Day at Florida Fair. Gainesville, Fla., Nov. 16.—Ladies from all parts of Florida will attend the big fair on Ladies' Day, next Thursday. As an incident of the occasion, a big floral parade of decorated automobiles has been arranged.

Clean-Up Meeting in Kentucky. Louisville, Ky., Nov. 16.—Under the leadership of Mrs. John H. Miller, chairman of the Outdoor Art League Clean-up Day Committee, the annual clean-up will be vigorously pushed on next Friday and Saturday. The Louisville women are determined to improve the sanitation of the public streets and squares.

Belgian Minister's Wife Raises Funds. Chicago, Nov. 16.—Madame Lalla Vandervelde, wife of the Belgian Minister of State, is continuing her successful tour of America, speaking to big audiences and urging the necessity of aiding the stricken Belgians. A recent talk to society women here netted $12,000 in one day, and Chicago women are planning to raise $100,000 for the relief work.

FOREST NOTES.

The town forest of Baden-Baden, Germany, yields an annual profit of $5.25 per acre, or a total net profit of nearly $67,500.

Outside of its use for fence posts black locust finds its principal utilization in insulator pins and brackets for telegraph and telephone lines. One hundred shades trees will be planted by the Massachusetts forestry association in cities or towns of four population classes which win prize contests for excellence in street tree planting.

The Russian government has placed an embargo on all kinds of lumber, to prevent its exportation; walnut lumber, including Circassian walnut, much prized by American furniture makers, is specifically mentioned.

Experiences with forest fires on the national forests this year show that automobiles, where they can be used, furnish the quickest and cheapest transportation for crews of fire fighters. Motor rates are higher than those for teams for the actual time employed, but the total cost per distance traveled and in wages paid to them in getting the fires much less. The time-saving is self evident; trips which ordinarily require two days time by team have been made by automobile in a few hours.

RECEIVES TWO MEMBERS.

Miss Elzoria Ennis of Petersburg and Miss Meta Gummershimer of Belleville were received into membership by Gamma Delta society at the regular meeting in the Y. W. C. A. room, Whipple academy, last Friday afternoon at four o'clock. Miss Grace McLaughlin read, "A Terdy Thanksgiving" by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman and Miss Maude Johnson gave "The Inconsiderate Waiter" by J. M. Barrie.

NO HUNTING ALLOWED.

Notice is hereby given that no hunting is allowed on the Beggs farm 4 1-2 miles southeast of Jacksonville.

Frank Beggs.

STRUCK BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANT.

Last Sunday evening at about 7:30 o'clock Murwin Ator residing on West Lafayette avenue started to church. When he arrived at the intersection of Pine and Lafayette, he was struck in the face by a portion of a brick, thrown from an unknown source with such force, that the young man was rendered unconscious and fell to the ground. How long he was lying unconscious he does not know but he was discovered by a boy who was passing along the street and was by him conducted to the office of Dr. Bowe, where the wound received necessary attention. The wound was quite severe but is healing now, and will no doubt leave a scar as a reminder of the incident. The young man is at a loss to understand who it was, and why the attack was made as he has no known enemy.

DONATION DAY.

OBITUARY.

Henry S. Grunder, Esq., son of John and Catherine Grunder, was born near Nunda, Livingston county, New York, January 11, 1836. After completing his education in the common schools he attended Alfred University, at Angelica, New York, after which he became a student of Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., of which our late beloved president, Wm. McKinley attended and graduated at a later date. Mr. Grunder received his diploma and degree of A. B. from said College in 1859, becoming principal of Angelica Academy and teacher of Ancient Languages and Belles Lettres in 1861, and later in 1863, he received a State certificate from the State of New York. He was a classmate in Latin, at Allegheny College, with Bishop Thoburn of the M. E. church and of the late Rev. Messmore, a missionary to India.

He was of French and German parentage, his father and uncles, coming from the long disputed territory of Alsace-Lorraine, mentioned so often in the present European conflict. Coming to this country at the time of the Holland Land purchase, they settled in Western New York and Pennsylvania, there, after making their home, his father's two uncles were of Revolutionary fame having engaged in the conflict in the battle of Jamestown, or Elizabethtown, it is uncertain which.

He came west in the late sixties, teaching at Detroit, Mich., later spending several years in Indiana, where he was admitted to the Bar, in September, 1865. He was also recommended as a Moral Public Instructor by the late David Turpie, U. S. Representative to Congress from Indiana.

He spent twenty-five years of his life teaching school, having taught in six states of the union. He came to this state in the early seventies and was married to Lucy B. Henry, daughter of Jesse and Martha Henry of the vicinity of Woodson, in May 1873. One daughter, Mrs. Martha M. Crain, blessed this union.

While teaching at the Morton school, east of Jacksonville, he taught Professor Benjamin Deese at present teacher of Greek in Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky, his first lessons in Greek outside of school hours. He resided and taught school at Woodson many years ago, also at Liberty and Mt. Sterling, where he practiced law, later returning to Woodson and with family resided at the home of Jesse Henry, during his last illness, after which they made their home in Murrayville, eight years later, returning to the vicinity of Woodson, where he spent the remaining twelve years of his life.

He was also a member of the Hall of Keshqua Lodge, No. 299 of the State of New York, receiving a Demit from said lodge in 1883. He was a member of Woodson Presbyterian church several years, after which he became a member of the Christian church at Hope, Arkansas, in the spring of 1910, relying on the Christian faith in the last years of his life.

Having earned his education by his own hand, he came west with nothing but a good mind and a strong constitution, and by thrift and economy, accumulated a liberal portion of the things of this life. He departed this life, Thursday, November 12, 1914, after suffering a stroke of paralysis the previous day at the mature age of 78 years, 10 months, 1 day.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and daughter, one grandchild, Oswald Crain, one foster-son, Edw. Fuller, two brothers, John Grunder of Dalton, New York, and D. C. Grunder, overseer of the county Houses, Allegheny Co., New York. Also a number of nieces and nephews and other relatives and friends. Another sheaf of harvest and while another place is vacant among us, we are secure in the belief that our loss is his eternal gain.

NEW MODEL STORM BUGGIES.

The Jacksonville Farm Supply Co. unloaded Monday a car load of new model storm buggies. Solidly built and perfectly finished, these 1915 style buggies represent the last word in modern carriage building.

Had Resided on Farm Near Woodson For More Than Fifty Years.

Mrs. Mary Hennessey Ring, widow of James Ring, died at 9:20 o'clock Tuesday morning at her home three miles west of Woodson, aged 100 years, 5 months and 2 days. She had resided for the past fifty years on the farm where she died. She was in possession of all her faculties and had been in good health until three weeks ago, when she was taken to her bed from no apparent cause, but from the infirmities incident to old age. She passed away as if going to sleep, being conscious of the near approach of death and having a readiness to go.

Miss Mary Hennessey was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, June 15, 1814 and while a young woman came to America and settled in the state of New Jersey, where after a few years she was united in marriage to James Ring. Shortly after their marriage the newly wedded couple came to Illinois and for one year made their home in Jacksonville, then going to the farm which has since been the family residence. There was born to this union six children, two of whom, Michael and William, preceded their mother in death some twenty years ago, as did the husband and father. The living children are Patrick and James who lived on the farm with their mother; Mrs. James Cosgriff, who resides on a farm about two miles from her mother's farm, and Daniel Ring, residing in Peoria. She is also survived by ten grand children, and one great grand child; also by a niece, Mrs. John Sutter of Sandusky street. Mrs. Ring had been a consistent member of the Catholic church since early childhood and had a large circle of friends who esteemed her for her worth as a good woman and neighbor.

The funeral services will be held at 10:00 o'clock on Thursday morning in St. Bartholomew's Catholic church in Murrayville. Interment will be in the family lot in Calvary cemetery, Jacksonville.

VERA CRUZ CAN BE EVACUATED WHENEVER THE ORDER IS GIVEN

Aguilar Agent is Being Shown Through the Various Departments by the Americans.

Vera Cruz, Nov. 17.—The sales department of the United States army quartermaster's depot closed today. Jose Dominguez, private secretary to General Aguilar and designated by Aguilar to assume charge of the civil affairs of Vera Cruz, is being shown through the various departments by the Americans. So far as the present holders of Vera Cruz are concerned the port can be evacuated whenever the order to leave is received.

Arrangements virtually have been made for the priests and nuns driven from the interior to leave this week for Galveston at the expense of the church. Other refugees in large numbers are certain to be left behind should the Americans depart. A small number of General Villa's men are operating near Tuxpam, half way between here and Tampico, and another group under Jose Carbajal has engaged the troops of Jesus Carranza on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. Higenio Aguilar and other leaders continue active campaigning in the vicinity of Puebla, between Vera Cruz and the capital. None of these anti-Carranza factions, however, is near enough Vera Cruz at present to take the city if the Americans evacuate it November 23.

Only two Americans are reported here to have been injured in the fighting in the interior thus far. One of them, a young man named Ennis, is said to have been shot in a rain on J. G. McGill's plantation near Puerto Mexico.

LEADERS SAY THERE WILL BE NO TROUBLE IN HARTFORD VALLEY

Movement of Non-Union Miners Into District Is Expected Within Twenty-four Hours.

Fort Smith, Ark., Nov. 17.—There will be no trouble between the miners and the troops in Hartford Valley after the resumption of work by the Bache-Denman interests, according to union labor leaders who have assembled in Fort Smith tonight. The movement of the non-union miners into the valley is expected to take place within the next 24 hours, but their exact destination has not been disclosed.

According to the order of the federal court yesterday the receiver may start operations at Mammoth vein mine No. 1, at Frogtown of the Griffith of Beck and Keifer mines, small workings near the Prairie Creek mine No. 4. These plants are two or three miles apart but within easy striking distance of Camp Garrison, where the four troops of the fifth cavalry are quartered.

Frank Hughes and P. E. Quinn of Springfield, Ill., national organizers of the United Mine Workers of America, were here today. They have been engaged in organizing the field about Dewar, Oklahoma, where a strike recently was successfully settled, and their presence here at this time was held to be significant.

FRANKENBERG DIVORCE SUIT TO BE HEARD AT THIS TERM

Case Reviewed by Appellate Court in Remanding for New Trial in Morgan County Circuit Court.

The divorce suit of Mrs. Mary R. Frankenberg against Carl V. Frankenberg was redocketed in the circuit court Tuesday on application of Mrs. Frankenberg's attorneys, Bellatti, Bellatti and Moriarty, and in compliance with the order of the appellate court. It will be remembered that Mrs. Frankenberg entered suit for divorce at a previous session of the circuit court and the jury which heard the evidence in the case decided against her. A motion for a new trial was entered and was denied, and an appeal was then taken to the appellate court.

Three assignments of error were urged upon the appellate court, first, that a new trial should have been granted on the ground that the verdict was contrary to the evidence; second, that the court erred in permitting certain evidence to be introduced in behalf of the appellee, and third, that the court erred in denying the right of the appellant to a new trial was overruled. The court upheld the first and second contentions.

The higher court in reviewing the case said that admitting all the facts to be true as testified to by Mr. Frankenberg, that they fell far short of showing that his desertion of his wife was for a reasonable cause. The original suit was brought on the grounds of desertion and it was alleged that Mr. Frankenberg absented himself from his wife for a period of more than two years beginning in May, 1911. The court held that a reasonable cause to justify a husband's desertion and abandonment of his wife must be such as would entitle him to a divorce. Further the court said the fact that a wife will not pay the debts of her husband has not yet been declared to be a ground for divorce on his part. "The evidence clearly shows," the court said, "that appellee had deserted and abandoned his wife for more than two years without reasonable cause and that she was entitled to a decree for divorce."

The court reviewed the case at some length, setting forth the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Frankenberg were married Feb. 15, 1894, and lived together until May 16, 1911. It is shown by the testimony reviewed that sometime prior to the separation that there had been differences of opinion concerning the payment of bills. Mr. Frankenberg testified that at that time he was unable to meet all his bills promptly and that on the day prior to the separation he asked his wife if she did not expect to help out in any way in the payment of bills and she replied that she did not. The opinion goes on to quote Mr. Frankenberg as follows: "Well, I said that I would do nothing either. We will just quit where we are. This was said the day before I left the house. I never asked her for half of what she had or anything like that. I never asked her to deed me half of the property her father had left her. I supported my family to the best of my ability. It was about 8:30 of the morning that I left the house and I told my wife there was no use trying to live like we were, and that the best thing I could do was to go and let her enjoy her money. One of my daughters cried and I told her that if she did not always get along well there that I would take care of her. My wife said some unpleasant things and I said that I would get ready and leave. The morning that I left I told my wife that we could be friends just the same, that I had no illfeeling toward her, and that I would manage to get along by myself." Mrs. Frankenberg in the suit denied that this conversation took place.

In the original trial it was shown that Mrs. Frankenberg had been married and divorced before and the appellate court mentioned that this was clearly incompetent and had nothing to do with the issues in this case. The appellate court held that the lower court erred in allowing this evidence to be given and in permitting counsel to mention it in his argument before the jury. It might be possible the court said under some circumstances that evidence of a prior marriage and divorce would be competent, but in the present case there was nothing whatever that could make such evidence competent. For the reasons indicated, therefore, the judgment of the circuit court was reversed, and the cause remanded with directions to set aside the judgment and to set aside the verdict and grant the new trial.

It so happened that Dr. Baker was in Liverpool the day that the dreadnaught was launched, and he witnessed the imposing ceremonies which took place that day. ### TUBERCULOSIS SURVEY MAPS ON EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY

Charts Shown at Springfield Will be Arranged for Inspection of Jacksonville People Today.

The tuberculosis survey maps which were shown last week at the meeting of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs in Springfield have been brought back to Jacksonville by the local physician in charge and will be put on exhibition today at the public library. On the maps are shown the number of living cases and deaths during the year and the whole comprises an addition of vast importance to Illinois vital statistics. Red circles indicate the living cases of tuberculosis and black squares indicate the deaths. Official government county maps have been used so the survey is uniform for the entire one hundred and two counties. The survey was made by the Tuberculosis Division, Public Health Department of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs and represents a great amount of painstaking labor, the responsibility for much of which rested upon members of the local anti-tuberculosis organization.

The Morgan county map shows 136 living cases and 43 deaths in 1913. There is appended the information that in 1910 occurred 50 deaths, in the next year 55 and 45 deaths from tuberculosis in 1912.
